TRENDSETTERS

Beginning his second year as principal of Kecoughtan High School was Mr. Dennis O. Gillikin. Because he enjoyed working with students, Mr. Gillikin decided to become a principal and secured his masters degree in administration with that end in mind. He recalls his first year at Kecoughtan as a successful one and was confident that he could reach his goals just as successfully this year.

The 1981-82 school year was Mr. Thomas E. Bailey's second year at Kecoughtan as assistant principal where his primary duty was to develop the master schedule and work with the various course offerings. The administrator who has been at Kecoughtan the longest was Mr. Larry Waddell who supervised student activities including the athletic department. Assistant principal Mr. Harold Johns' main duty was building supervision.

Among the other duties performed by the assistant principals were curriculum development, coordination of guidance services, giving assistance to new teachers and substitutes, handling discipline and working with clubs and activities.

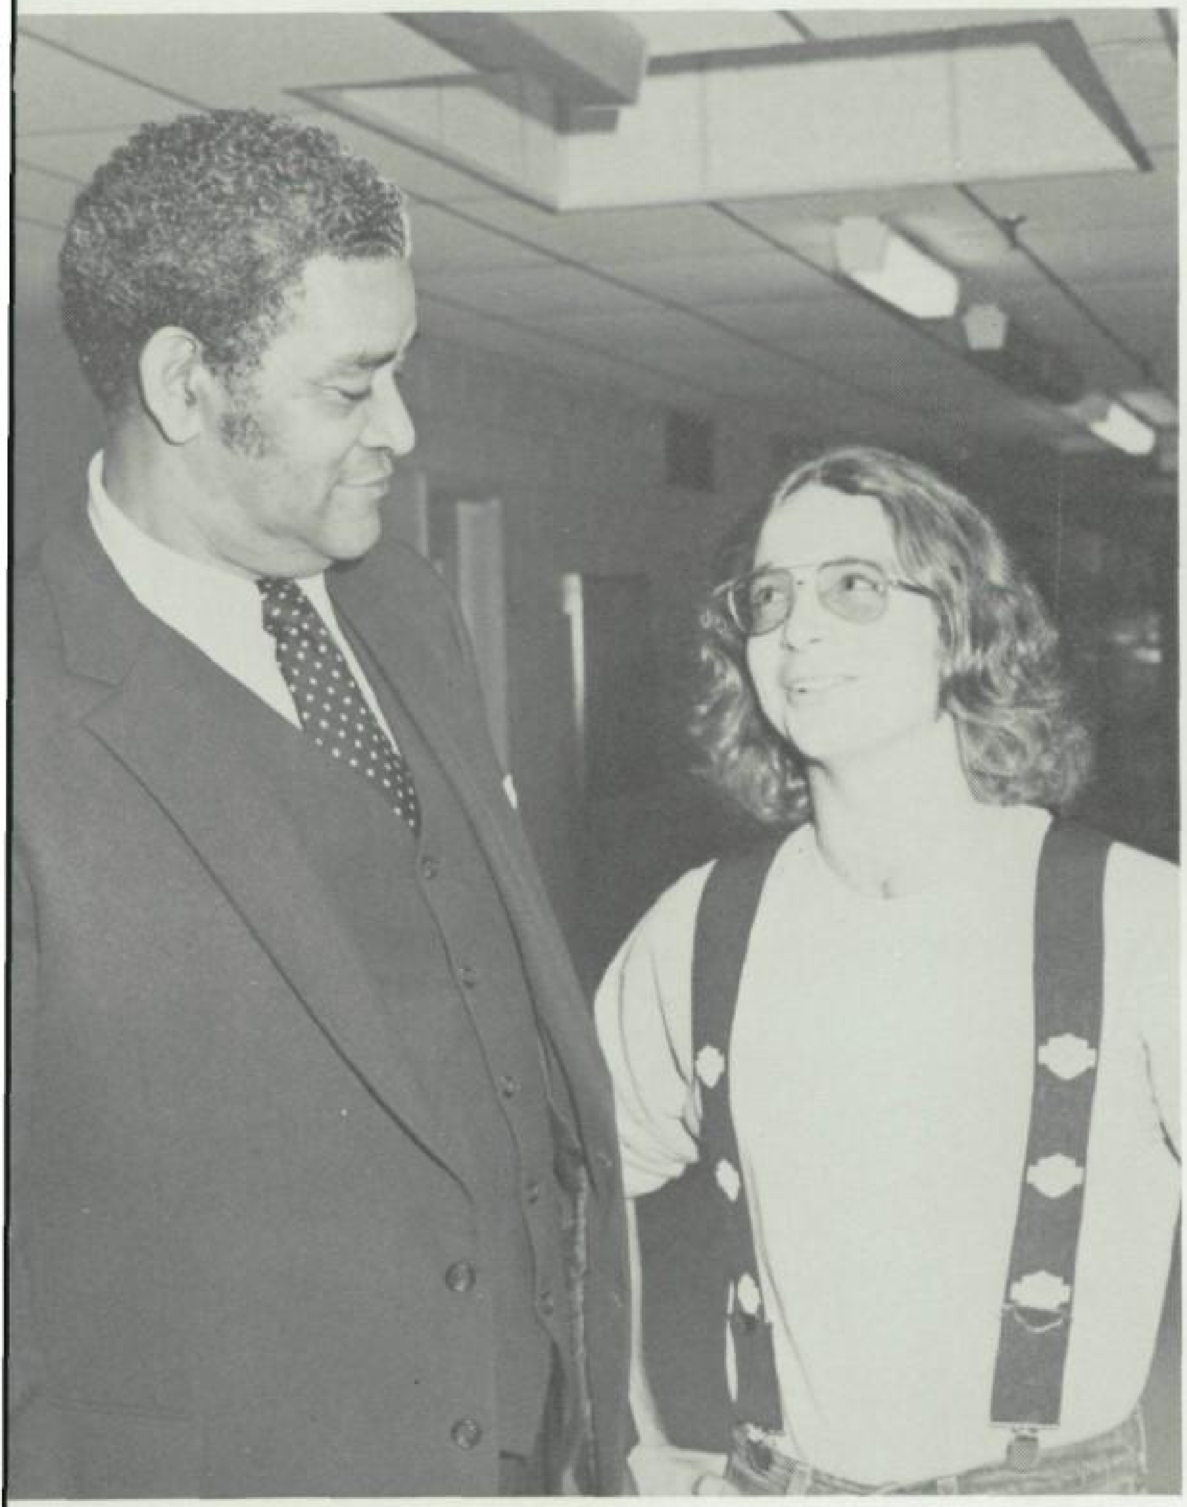
TRACKKEEPERS

Keeping KHS students in line were eans Mrs. Shirley Booth and Mr. oloman Wesley. The positions of ach of these two people were unique n that, eventually, as the year proressed, they came in contact with virually every student in the school. This ontact made them more aware of the ocial and academic problems with hich students had to deal; thus, they ere in a position to help many stuents through counselling.

Mrs. Shirley Booth has been ean of Women since 1968. She, s did Mr. Wesley, dealt with attendance, early dismissals, discipline and tardies; she also arranged the homebound instruction program for any student who had to be out of school for a long period of time. In addition, she counselled students who had difficulty coping with the problems of family, peers, or school pressures. Invaluable to her were student aids of whom she had at least two every period. They filed, ran errands, and answered the telephone when Mrs. Booth was occupied with her other duties.

Before becoming Dean of Men, Mr. Wesley was a government teacher at Kecoughtan. His main duty as dean was discipline. Although suspension was his least preferable form of punishment, he did not hesitate to use it when necessary. Maintaining school records as related to attendance took up a majority of Mr. Wesley's time as did the processing of student re-entries and new students.

Undeniably, the deans were a very important part of the administration at KHS. The proficiency with which they performed in their respective areas helped to make Kecoughtan a smooth-running organization.



Smiling in disbelief, Mrs. Shirley Booth listens patiently to another outlandish excuse from a latecomer.

Awaiting the latest news, Mr. Wesley confers with Thomas Wilson over the latest football game.

BOOKS, BOOKS AND MORE BOOKS

Miss Nancy Spain finished out another year as Kecoughtan's head librarian, keeping the library in order and maintaining its educational atmosphere. She was also responsible for selecting new books with which to keep the school's collection up-to-date. The amount of paper work that accompanied these tasks was so great that assistants and student aides took care of the routine duties essential to a library, such as checking out books and replacing them to their proper shelves.

Clerical duties and the responsibility of repairing damaged books fell upon the shoulders of Mrs. Pat McFadden and Mrs. Bette Bishop, who served as library clerks.

The Audio-Visual center, although less prominent and somewhat removed from most of the student body, was run by Assistant Librarian Mary Owens with the same efficiency characteristics of the main library.

The bookstore, situated across th hall from the library, was one of th chief concerns of Mrs. Alease Evans the school bookkeeper. This was onl one of several responsibilities wit which Mrs. Evans has to contend. Sh was charged with keeping track of a money that entered and lef Kecoughtan, recording student activit funds and maintaining book rental fees

An efficient Miss Nancy Spain keeps the library records straight.

As Miss Mary Owens stays busy at her daily work, she makes copies for dittos on the Themofax machine.

Smiling, Mrs. Alease Evans ends her day by counting up the last of the KHS funds.

Mrs. Bette Bishop works busily at filing cards in the card catalog in the Kecoughtan library.

SCHEDULES, COURSES, AND THE LIKE

eading information about scholarships, Mr. idney Williams considers possible candidates.

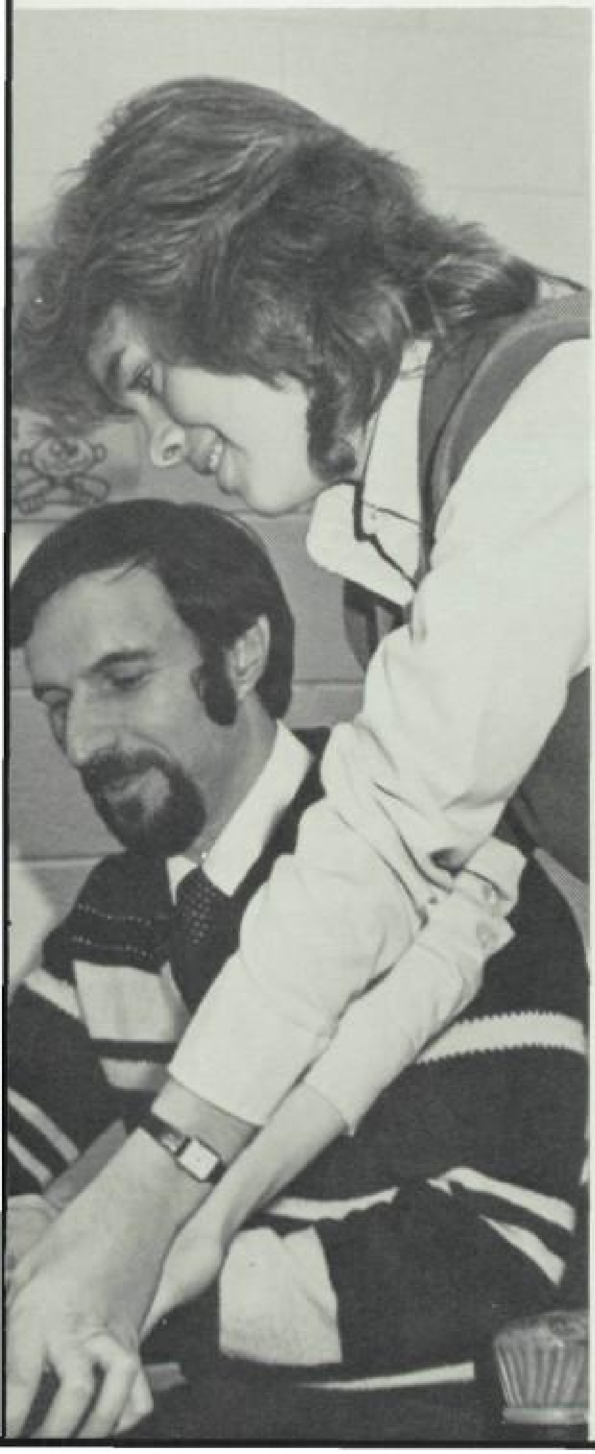
Mrs. Alma Luck

One of the smallest yet most important departments for students at Kecoughtan was the guidance department. Under the direction of Mrs. Jane Price, the office was a place where a student could go to be helped, informed and guided out of any sticky situation, from transferring to getting ready for college or a career.

Each of the five counselors had a special area of concentration besides counseling their set of students. Mrs. Alma Luck helped students find scholarships for college-bound seniors and the financial aid director was Mr. Harold Parrish. For those who decided that college was not for them, Mr. Sidney Williams, career counselor, pointed them in the right direction. For transfer students, Mr. Arnold Ritt was present to help with any problems as organizer of the Transfer Adjustment Group, known as TAG. All these counselors saw to it that students were in the right classes, the right grade and on the right track for the future.



Mrs. Jane Price reflects on her days activities, as she waits for the next student.

Explaining the significance of raw scores, Mr. Arnold Ritt clarifies Tracy Cormier's questions on her SAT results.

Mr. Harold Parrish frantically searches for the file of a transferring student.

NEW FACES

As students returned to Kecoughtan last fall, they were met by several unfamiliar faces in various offices around the school.

In the clinic, a new face in a white nurse's uniform greeted them as Mrs. Jo Colburn took up her duties as school nurse, replacing the long-familiar face of retired Mrs. Myra Hastings. Mrs. Colburn has been a nurse for twenty-four years, three of which have been spent in the Hampton School System. As the school nurse, Mrs. Colburn not only helped the sick, but also counseled students about health related problems. Mrs. Colburn was a valuable addition to the school and a nice person to go to when students were ill.

Other changes noted by returning students were the new faces in the administrative offices. Mrs. Cheryl Williams, last year's data processing clerk, replaced retired Mrs. Betsy Storey as receptionist. Miss DeVera Lee took over Mrs. Williams' old job, while over in guidance, Mrs. Esther Penrod replaced Mrs. Gladys Hardrath, long familiar to students in her capacity as guidance secretary. Working with Mrs. Penrod was another new arrival, data processing clerk Mrs. Joyce Dorsey. However, one familiar face remained as Mrs. Katie Rives began her second year at Kecoughtan as secretary to the principal, Mr. Gillikin.

Calmly, Mrs. Katie Rives jots down another appointment on Mr. Gillikin's busy agenda.

Checking the alignment of the mimeographs, Mrs. Esther Penrod duplicates more copies of a college-boun student's transcripts.

Referring to her accurate files, Nurse Jo Colburn checks on a student's past illnesses.

As Miss De Vera Lee fills out report card forms, sh smiles as she finds another straight "A" student.

Along with her many other duties, Mrs. Cheryl Williams makes announcements over the PA system.

Mrs. Joyce Dorsey takes time out to look over her work for the day.

UNSUNG HEROES

king time out from their busy day to pose for a TOMAHAWK Photographer are Mrs. Helen Pluto, Mrs. ary Watson, Mrs. Madge Odom and Mrs. Jean Carter.

Kecoughtan is a large school with approximately 1600 students and 100 faculty and staff. These people need to be fed every noon and cleaned up after every day. Such jobs fell to hard-working staffs of cafeteria workers guided by Mrs. Watson and custodians headed by Mr. James Gray.

Ladies of the cafeteria staff devoted long hours in the kitchen preparing varied and nutritional hot lunches, bag lunches and the ingredients for the always popular salad bar. Roast turkey, fried chicken and pizza were favorites of students and faculty alike.

Custodians were on the job all day and part of the night sweeping, dusting, cleaning blackboards and washing windows. The outside of the school also demanded their attention as trash and litter were picked up each day.

Kecoughtan was fortunate in having hard-working men and women who were dedicated to keeping the school and grounds clean and the students and faculty well-fed.

r. James Gray, head custodian, and Mr. Willie Jones discuss the day's work plan.

Mr. David Hayes looks down the hall to see which mess to clean up first.

READIN' WRITIN' AND ?

English. How many students cringed at the thought of research papers, classical novels, poetry, and numerous other projects English teachers assigned? But because of the wide variety of classes available to students, English was probably one of the most interesting areas of study at Kecoughtan.

Leading the English department through another year, Mr. Garland Wesson handled all of the responsibilities that accompanied that position. In addition to teaching his own classes, he assigned other English teachers their classes, helped arrange schedules, and acted as an instructional aid to the staff.

Students needing extra help with their English skills found it in Mrs. Jeanette Johnson's special education classes. This was Mrs. Johnson's first year back at Kecoughtan after an absence of twelve years, during which she taught at Phoebus and Pembroke High Schools. She quickly involved herself with the school community by extending a helping hand to other newcomers, the sophomores which she aided in getting organized.

Reading one of his student's essays, Mr. Wesson is impressed by the writing style.

Disappointed by his students test grades, Mr. Vandervort encourages them to do better next time.

ABOUT NUMBERS

Why do I need to learn this? What good will learning this do? In addition to answering questions such as these, math teachers faced the tedious task of teaching such mathematical expressions as sine, cosine, slope, program, the distance formula, and the Pythagorean theorem to not always attentive students. These teachers faced a never-ending job of instructing the finer points in mathematics, and for them the day did not end with the final bell at 2:45. While the students were at home preparing their homework, the math teacher was busy grading papers, attending department meetings, and making lesson plans.

For those math wizards who maintained excellence in math, there was membership in the Math Honor Society, sponsored by Mr. John Quinn. While trying to encourage students in their study of math with the Math Honor Society, Mr. Quinn sponsored the Key Club as well. When he discovered that the Key Club would fold without a sponsor, he offered his service because he believed that it was a worthwhile club. Even though Mr. Quinn was busy teaching his classes and sponsoring clubs, he still found time to belong to, and participate in, several organizations. Included in these organizations were the Penn State Alumni Association, William and Mary Alumni Association, American Federation of Teachers, National Teachers of Math, and the American Meteorology Society.

N THE REAL WORLD

r. Roscoe Barber eyes Debbie Gronich's paper for possible errors.

After winding one's way to the farthest reaches of Kecoughtan, one will find the Science Department, where aspiring Pasteurs and Einsteins feverishly work under the trained eyes of Colonel Roscoe Barber and the other instructors in the Physical and Natural Sciences.

Col. Barber was well-qualified for his occupation as a Physics teacher and as sponsor of the Science Club. His academic experience includes attending the United State Military Academy, the University of North Carolina, and the University of Calif. at Berkeley. This impressive classroom record has been augmented by his career as an engineering officer in the Army. This also enables him to apply the principles of Physics to "real world" situations, making the class a little less painful for his students.

Through his successful career and solid record as a teacher at Kecoughtan, Col. Barber has proven himself to be a man dedicated both to his profession and to the education of young people.

STUDIES OF THE WORLD

Six clubs and organizations operated under the sponsorship of social studies personnel; four sports were coached by this department's teachers. When the 2:45 bell rang, students participating in debate and poetry readings were coached by the department chairman, Mrs. Sarah Alligood, who sponsored the Forensic team. For those students interested in playing chess and backgammon a new club, The Black Knight Chess Club, emerged under the guidance of Mr. Jerome Flowers. Sociology students who expressed a desire to participate joined the Sociology Club under the leadership of Mrs. Evelyn Dawkins. Creative students in the literary and artistic fields found an outlet in putting together the school literary magazine, The Torch, also sponsored by Mrs. Dawkins.

The SCA gained a new sponsor in the person of Mr. William Cawley who brought fresh ideas and a renewed zeal to increase communications between the students and their student government. After school during the wrestling season, Mr. Cawley became Coach Cawley. He also worked with the Presidental Classroom students and saw them off on their sessions in Washington, D.C.

And finally, U.S. History and government teacher, Mrs. Norma Seals, donned her Tomahawk hat and went to work to put out the school yearbook. Social studies, yes. But they also contributed a great deal more to the students of the Green and White Reservation.

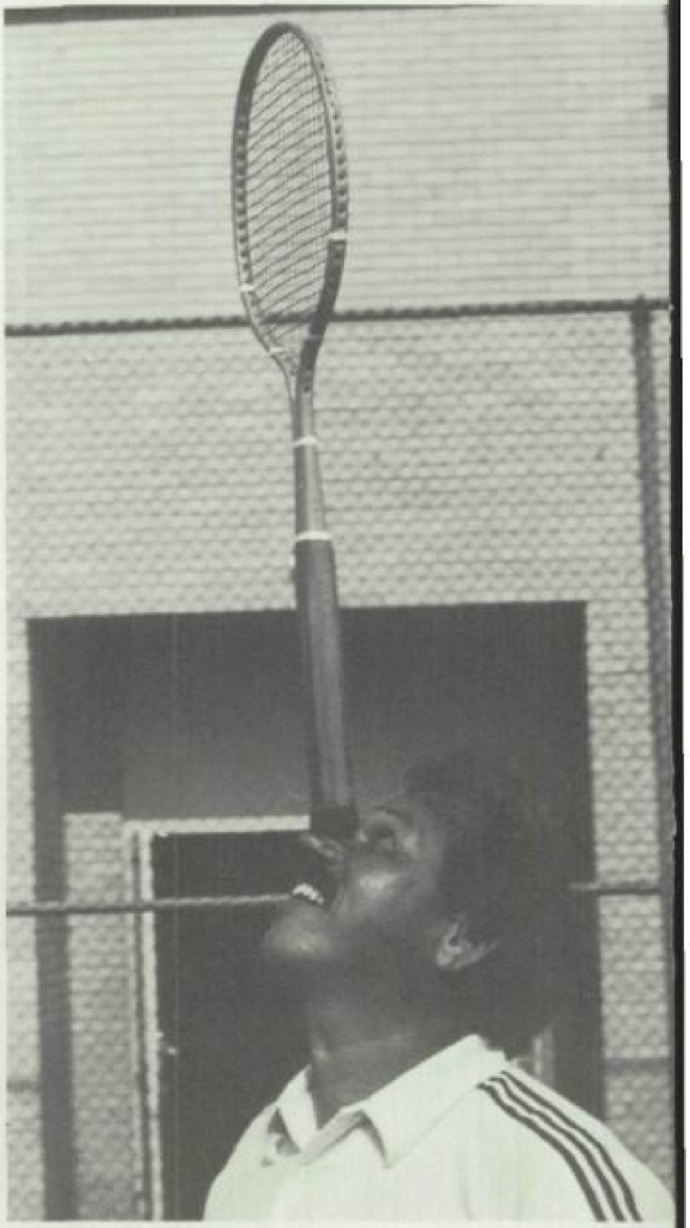
KEEPING FIT AND HEALTHY

A wide range of courses was offered by the Health and Physical Education Department in the 1981-82 year, including approximately eight physical education courses and four health courses per semester.

Physical Education courses ran from familiar sports, such as basketball and flag football, to activities that were a new experience for most students, such as archery. Health courses centered on several aspects of human health, including classes such as Disease and Mood Modifiers, which concerned the causes of health problems.

Heading up the Health and P.E. department was Mr. Buddy Denton, who, in addition to his departmental and teaching duties coached both the Girl's Tennis and Varsity Baseball. Coach Denton had under his command a staff of two female instructors, Mrs. June Tharpe and Mrs. Shaun Brown, and four male instructors Mr. Roger Watson, who also served as Girl's Basketball coach, Mr. Howard Jackson, and Mr. John Pauls, coaches for Varsity Football. These classes and teachers combined to give students not only a sound mind, but a strong body.



"All right class, this is the way you hold your racquet!" comments Coach Buddy Denton as he demonstrates hi special ability.

Mrs. June Tharpe takes time out to relax with some of her class after teaching them the finer points of the tennis game.

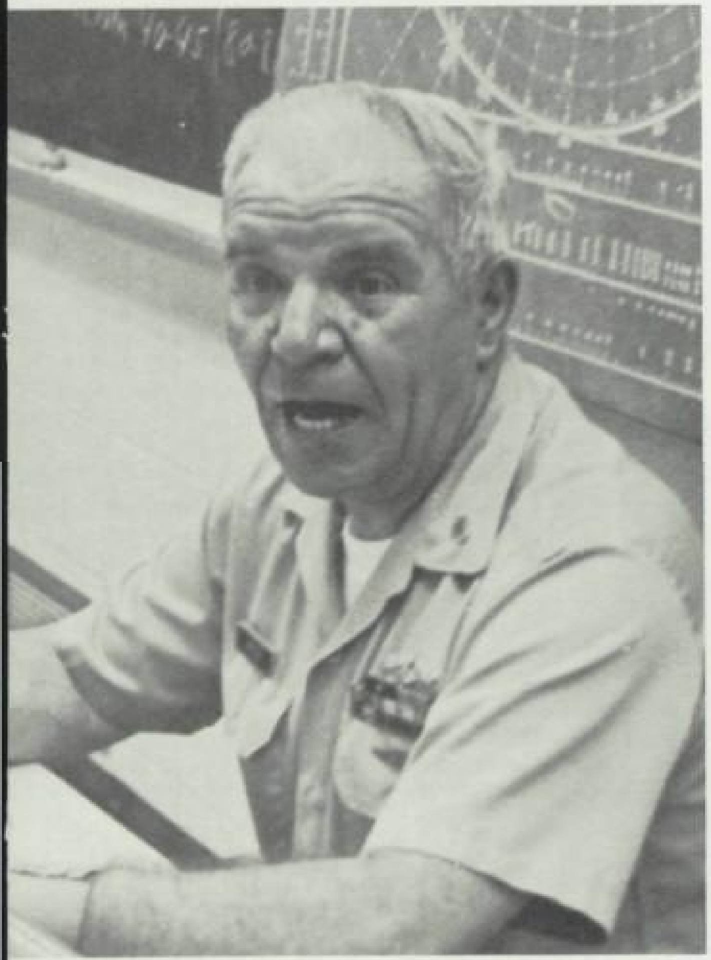
ULL STEAM AHEAD



dding some Navy discipline to Kecoughtan's atmosphere, hief Spriggs answers one of his student's questions.

Kecoughtan welcomed to its staff Lieutenant Commander Beale Kinsey as its new National Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps instructor at the beginning of the 1981-82 school year. A native of Pennsylvania and a graduate of Penn State, Commander Kinsey brought to the Kecoughtan ROTC program the valuable knowledge and experience gained during his twenty-one years of active duty in the Navy. By coming to Kecoughtan, Commander Kinsey fulfilled two of his wishes: to remain in the area and to teach.

Commander Kinsey joined Chief Arthur Spriggs in instructing an ROTC program consisting of three divisions: a standing Platoon of twenty-eight individuals who were taught to march as a group and prepare for drill competition, a Trick Drill Team, which concerned itself with weapons handling, and the Color Guard which carried the National, school and ROTC flags in parades and competition.

According to Commander Kinsey, the main purposes of the NJROTC were to develop informed and responsible citizens, strengthen character, promote an understanding of the basic elements of and requirements for national security, and to prompt interest in the military services as a possible career. The experience of both instructors helped the program reach its goals.

A TASTE OF CULTUR

Parlez-vous Francais? Habla usted Espanol? If your answer to either one of these questions is in any language other than English, then chances are that you participated in one of the language classes at KHS during the 81-82 school year. That year marked several changes for the language department, the most important of which was Mrs. Carleen Yates' appointment as department head. Prior to this Mrs. Yates had taught French at Kecoughtan for two years. Bringing with her many new ideas that added to the enjoyment of taking a language class, Mrs. Yates' first year was a successful one. Another change in the language department was in the form of Mr. James Horne. Taking the place of Mrs. Judith Williamson, Mr. Horne brought the spirit and culture of the German people to his students. Although adjusting to a new school can be as difficult for teachers as it can for their students, Mr. Horne easily slipped into that Warrior community.

Had it not been for four additional teachers, the language department would not have operated so smoothly and successfully. Mrs. Joyce Frazier taught the handful of students taking Latin. First year Spanish was handled by Mrs. Tyla Matteson, who also taught French, while Mrs. Lisa Smith taught Spanish Two. Third, fourth, and fifth year Spanish students were guided by Mrs. Nan Jordan. The first and second year classes of all languages focused on vocabulary and grammatical points. Third year students reenforce their previous two years of learnin and went more in-depth, while fourt and fifth year students learned th

Although oral drills and written exe process of learning a language, the la

KECOUGHTAN'S FINE ARTISTS

er face registering a look of disbelief, Mrs. utterer reaches for her glasses to find the sour ote among her students.

r. Hubbard's smile reveals his satisfaction at be-ng able to guide the minds and hands of young art-sts.

In a spare moment, Mrs. Carter abandons her more serious works of art to doodle in her grade book.

Looking a bit like Kojak trying to reason with a desperate criminal, Mr. Pendergraft gives the band instructions for its next performance.

The fine arts department included art, chorus and band classes. In these classes, future artists and musicians were able to develop their talent plus have fun and learn the pressures faced in the world of art from experienced teachers.

Heading the art department was Mr. Leroy Hubbard, who has been working within the Hampton City School system for thirty years, both as a teacher and a supervisor. Mr. Hubbard has had extensive art training, including post-graduate study at Virginia Commonwealth University and Pennsylvania's Academy of Art. Though only his first year at Kecoughtan, Mr. Hubbard enjoyed being on the art instructional team.

The chorus department was under the direction of Mrs. Lucile Sutterer. She graduated from Oberlin College, has attended Pennsylvania State University, and has been teaching for twenty-six years. One of her teaching duties includes coaching the Harbor Lights Ensemble, Kecoughtan's show choir, which has been in existence for eight years and has won numerous awards for outstanding performance.

Thirteen of Mr. Fred Pendergraft's teaching years have been spent here at Kecoughtan. He attended Kansas University as well as the Armed Forces School of Music in Norfolk, and has played in many different countries with the Navy band. The concert, symphonic, stage, and marching bands as well as the strings department at Syms Junior High School are all under his careful guidance.

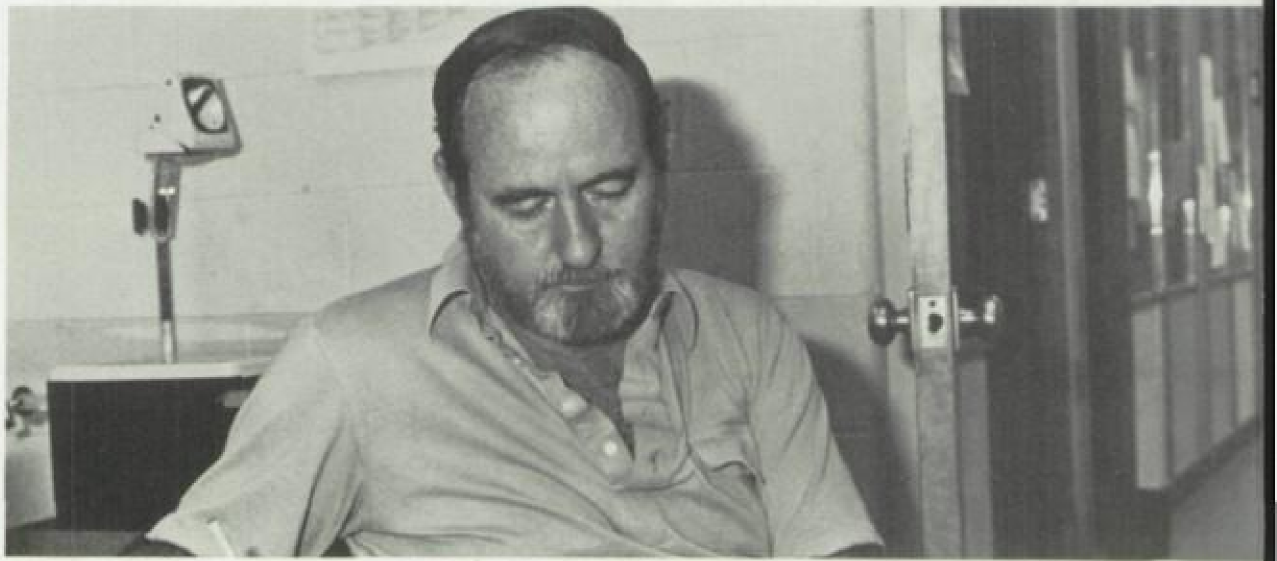
BUSINESS AS USUAL

Mrs. Judith McPherson smiles in satisfaction as she watches her students transcribe their dictation notes.

Counting each item with care, Mrs. Joyce Mitchell accurately records the quantity of each candle sold for FBLA.

As Pam Humphrey works on a job, Mrs. Nanc Shrout offers some constructive advice.

Mr. Warner checks his student's accounting projects for accuracy and neatness.



Typing furiously before the timer sounded, business students rushed to meet their daily deadline. This was a typical scene in the connecting rooms of the business department. Typing was not the only thing happening with courses to career oriented ones. The department head, Mr. I.O. Warner, was felt through his constant observation of business classes.

The day for Mrs. Joyce Mitchell was filled with many activities, including the sponsorship of FBLA, Future Business Leaders of America. Learning about FBLA at Bethel, where she previously taught, Mrs. Mitchell decided to make FBLA a more active club here. Besides teaching her classes Mrs. Mitchell was also the COE coordinator and helped students find their true business potential.

Mr. Don Taylor

As Mrs. Peggy Becouvarakis checks her roll, she smiles in relief when s sees that no one is absent.

PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE

When signing up for classes, most students think of the obvious math, science, and English courses that are offered. But there are also other courses that are taught in school that are also valuable learning experiences. These classes are Home Economics, Distributive Education, Industrial Arts and Industrial Cooperate Training.

In Home Economic I and II the basic steps of cooking and sewing were taught by Dorothy Williams and Mrs. Patricia Sperry. More in depth classes such as Interior Design, Child Development and Marriage and the Family, were also available, and were taught by Mrs. Sue Smith, who also sponsored the FHA club.

Distributive Education taught students about the world of work and how to be successful at a job. Taught by Mrs. Virginia Johnson and Mrs. Pamela Szynal, students found a job and also learned about marketing, clothing and other important job skills. Going hand in hand with D.E. are the Industrial Corporative Training, students also learn job skills but are more concentrated in the industrial field. Taught by Mr. David Howard, students learned the skills that would be needed in the field of industry.

Kecoughtan students also had the opportunity to take industrial classes with practical value in the Industrial Arts department. Classes ranging from Mechanical Drawing to Foundry, which were taught by Mr. Miles Saecker and Mr. Clayton Fitchett, respectively. Other teachers included Mr. Claude Hopson and Mr. Curtis Hubbard. These classes made students familiar with machinery that would one day come in handy either on the job or around the house. All these teachers taught students the valuable information that would be necessary for the world of work.

A SWINGING SUCCESS

From the hot summer days of August until mid-October, twelve dedicated Kecoughtan girls practiced their serves, volleys and ground strokes intensly for at least two hours a day. Their hard work and enthusiasm resulted in a 4-4 season for the Lady Warriors tennis team. Led by Coach Buddy Denton and managed by William Cash, the team, which consisted mainly of first-year players, relied of speed and skill rather than experience. Laura Ervin, ranked 6th, was given the award of Most Deserving, while Shari Savage was the recipient of the Coach's Trophy. Lisa Wildes, voted MVP and seeded first, was a finalist in District competition and advanced to Regionals. Looking back over the season, the hard work and devotion was rewarded be success for individual players as well as the entire squad.

The Warriors suffered their first loss to Hampton with a score of 4-5. Bounding back from their losses, the team scored decisive victories over Ferguson, York and Bethel, with both the individual players and doubles teams contributing to these victories. Most Valuable Player and number one seed Mike Gibson had the most love sets, while William Cash proved to be the Best in Tie-breakers. THE BEST YET

There is an old saying that goes, "Anything worth doing is worth doing well." That was exactly what the Kecoughtan football team did as they finished second in the highly competitive Peninsula District. The success of the season was a credit to the hard work of not only the players and coaches but the cheerleaders, administration, and student body as well.

Head coach Howard Jackson with the assistance of coaches John Pauls, Tom Millen, Gordon White, and Jerry Hall guided the Warriors to an impressive 8-2 record. The only losses suffered was an early setback to Menchville and a heartbreaking 14-12 defeat at the hands of eventual state champion Hampton. These defeats, however, were outnumbered by the eight victories. Highlights of the season included victories over rivals Bethel and Phoebus along with a Homecoming shutout of Lafayette. An offense, which featured a balance of passing and running, rolled up a total of 214 points in the ten games played while the stingy Warrior defense held opponents to only 87 points.

With A burst of speed, Lance Yonkos takes a lead away from Menchville.

Several individual performances highlighted the 1981 Cross Country Season. Senior Scott Walker tied Del Williams of Phoebus for an all-time Phoebus course record and Senior Lance Yonkos set a Hampton course record (1981), tying Kevin Palmer of Hampton. Scott and Lance also set a record on Kecoughtan's home course at Gosnold's Hope Park.

The team got off to a slow start losing their first three meets to Warwick, Ferguson and Menchville. The Harriers then staged a comeback with two strong victories over Lafayette and Bethel. Next came losses to Hampton and Denbigh. These defeats were countered by the team's narrow victory over Phoebus; the score of this meet was tied after the first five runners of each team had finished, but Junior Sean Butler's sixth place finish tipped the scales toward the Warriors. This left the team with a 3-5 regular season record.

Following the completion of the regular season, the Warriors competed in the Hampton City meet, placing se ond behind Hampton. The team th ran in the Peninsula District Mee where they finished sixth overall, d feating Hampton by one point.

Though the team's district finish w not high enough to advance them the Regional Championship Meet, se eral individuals placed high enough continue. Scott Walker finishe twelfth in the district meet, and ma a strong showing in the Regional Mee Freshman Jenny O'Donnell plac second in the girl's District Compe tion. Her third place finish in the R gional Meet advanced her to the sta Cross Country Meet in Charlottesville.

A STROKE IN THE ROUGH

Playing matches at Newport News Golf Course, Langley, Fort Eustis and the Hampton Golf and Country Club, Kecoughtan golfers had a so-so season, ending fifth in a field of nine. Six young men, under Coach Donald Taylor, practiced and worked hard; unfortunately, Fate did not smile on these dedicated young men. Senior Zee Siekirski went to the regionals where he finished a respectable seventh. Although it may not have been Kecoughtan's year, next year will be much better as the returning players will have much more experience.

And now some thoughts on the game of golf:

Golf is a rewarding game. One can go and get rid of all of one's frustrations by hitting that little white ball as hard as one can. Its also good for the health: walking is good exercise. Eyesight is sharpened as the player must look into the rough to find that ball that insists on playing hide-and-seek. And it is a marvelous way to build one's vocabulary as one learns a whole new language when that little white bugger gets just to the edge of the cup and says, "Hey, I's not going in there! It's dark down there!".

Golf balls, as everyone knows who plays the game, have three inherent characteristics: they love the water, they have a bad sense of direction, and they all exhibit claustrophobic tendencies hating to go into that little hole in the middle of the green. Therefore, any golfer goes into the game knowing that that ball is going to be against him. So what to do?

It is this writer's opinion that those little spheres must be educated very early. They must be taught that water is bad for them—all it does is give them wrinkles and ages them prematurely. This should work very well, especially with female golf balls. As far as their bad sense of direction—this writer feels that this can be corrected to a very large extent if the player would start out gently with the ball. Use it first in putting and gradually hit it harder and harder so that, by the time the player REALLY hits it, the danger of scrambling its brains will be lessoned and thereby its sense of direction will be preserved and it will not lose its way and go into the rough. Every player should educate their golf balls by telling them that snakes live out in the rough and those snakes just might mistake them for a new type of rodent and swallow them. With their fear of close places plaguing them, this should convince them to stay on the fairway where no self-respecting snake would go. So, all in all, if next year's golf team wishes to improve their record, take the advice of this writer and EDUCATE those little white critters so that they will do exactly what you want them to. Party time will be over; there will be no more games of hide-and-seek, no more rim-sitting competitions, and no more golf ball swimming bashes. The only parties will be when the players end their season triumphantly, having finally mastered the class of Golf-ball Education 101.

WINNING CYCLE BEGINS

Determination and hard work enabled the Kecoughtan Warrior basketball team, led by Head Coach Jim Hathaway and assistant coach Revis Conrad, to achieve a winning season for the first time in seven years. Lacking the height of their opponents, the scrappy Warrior cagers relied on speed and shooting in compiling an overall record of 12-10. This record included a 9-7 conference record as well as a second place in the Fort Eustis Invitational Tournament.

Captains Scott Woodlief and Gerald Billups provided floor leadership to the team whose accomplishments of the 1982 season included beating arch rival Hampton two times, two victories over Peninsula District champion Menchville, and a victory over traditionally powerful Ferguson. Scott Woodlief, the fifth leading scorer in the district, was honored with selections to not only the All-District first team but the All Fort Eustis Tournament first team. At the awards banquet several individuals were cited for their achievements. Awards went to Casper Cooper for leading the team in rebounding and for field goal percentage, Kelvin Newsome and Gerald Billups for their outstanding defensive play, Scott Woodlief for most assists and best foul shooting percentage, and John McDonald as the most sportsmanlike. Scott was named as the team's most valuable player. The basketball players and coaches deserve to be commended for their efforts and success.

THOSE LADY CAGERS

Although they were unable to achieve the same degree of success as their predecessors the year before, the Girl's Basketball team had a fine season. Third year coach Gordon White directed his squad a successful season which featured 14 wins and 9 losses. The lady Warriors placed a respectable third in the highly competitive Peninsula District. The Warriors finished a rigorous season schedule with a record of 10-6. At the end of District play, the Warriors advanced to the District Tournament where they annihilated Denbigh 71-42. The lady cagers fell to archrival Phoebus for the third time of the season by a score of 48-43 in the second round of the District Tournament.

Honored for their individual efforts were Wanda Harrold as Best Offensive Player, Lori Tellinger as Best Defensive Player, and Elizabeth Stillwell as the Most Valuable Player. A SWIMMING SUCCESS

Q: Who was the last Kecoughtan team to win fifteen or more straight contests and two consecutive district titles?

A: The Swim Team, of course!

Yes, there is a swimming team at Kecoughtan. And it has been quite successful over the past few years, placing no worse than second in the district over the past four years, and taking the title three of those years. It has won fifteen straight meets over two years, and has a two-year record of 15-1.

What is the key to this phenomenal success? It's swimmers such as senior co-captain Tish Johnson, who has never finished worse than third in a district meet, and who finished her high school career with three district championships. Johnson, voted the Most Valuable Swimmer in two of the last three years, was the key to the girls' squad this year, and was backed up by a strong corps of underclassmen which bodes well for years to come. The boys' team was led by junior co-captain Mark Midgette, district champion in the 100 free, who was aided by seniors Tommy Stickle, Thom Randolph, and sophomore Tom Jachimowski.

The Warrior's strength lay in team performance as both the girl's and boy's 400-meter freestyle relay teams went undefeated through the regular season and placed second in the district meet, the boys losing by a scant .12 of a second. Freshman Frances Burgdorf, Juniors Anne Jachimowski and Michelle Murray, and Johnson comprised the girls' squad while the boys' squad consisted of Midgette, Randolph, Jachimowski, and Stickle. Sophomore Kelly Steinmetz also turned in a strong individual performance.

The depth of the squad was consistently shown by those swimmers who concentrated on picking up valuable points by placing second or third. They consisted of seniors David and Gene Grant, junior Jim Taggart, sophomores Britt League and Chuck Poole, and freshman Kyle Olson.

At the awards banquet, Midgette was named the Most Valuable Swimmer, senior Gary Humphries was selected Most Versatile, and sophomore Taryn Vangilder was selected Most Deserving.

MAGNIFICENT MATME

A proper attitude is essential for a successful wrestling team. The possession of this attitude enabled the Warrior matmen to record a 12-4 overall dual meet record, and a third place finish in the Peninsula District. The Warrior grapplers placed ninth in the Regional Tournament after finishing third in the District Tournament.

The 1981-82 wrestling team had many individual accomplishments to go along with their success as a team. Seniors Robert Hill and Maynard Brown were district champions while Danny O'Donnell, Mike McCormick, and Rusty Melton finished as runners-up. Individuals who placed in the Regionals were: Danny O'Donnell, a third place finisher, Mike McCormick, a fourth place finisher, and fifth place finishers George Mizusawa and Maynard Brown. O'Donnell, who placed fifth, was the only Warrior to place in the State Tournament. Special honors were awarded as follows: Danny O'Donnell as MVP, Robert Hill the Matman award for his 31 dual meet takedown record, Rusty Melton for the fastest pin (fastest in KHS history), Maynard Brown for most pins with 15, and George Mizusawa for a Perfect Dual Meet season.

The team of veteran seniors and accomplished newcomers led by captain Rusty Melton worked hard to acquire their success. Head Wrestling Coach Bill Cawley credited much of the team's success as well as individual achievements to the correct attitudes possessed by the Warrior matmen.

RETURN TO FORM

Not since 1979 had the Kecoughtan soccer team won the Peninsula District Championship. The 1982 squad composed of 10 seniors, six juniors, one sophomore and two freshmen, however, were successful in capturing not only a district but the regional title as well. After two years of mediocrity, the Varsity squad returned to the winning ways which were responsible for Kecoughtan's soccer dynasty. Teamwork, depth, a wealth of experience and rigorous practice sessions enabled the Warriors to overcome the challenges of their opponents.

Frequently labeled underdogs, the Warriors proved numerous predictions wrong en route to their 12-1-2 record. The season began with a bang as the Warriors "stunned" defending champions Lafayette 6-0. After suffering two ties in preseason, their record was not to be stained again as they rallied together under first year head Coach Kelly Alford for a perfect 8-0 regular season record. The Warriors advanced to regional play after rolling to an impressive 10-0-2 slate. Kecoughtan emerged from the Regional Tournament as champions by defeating both First Colonial and Maury by identical 3-2 scores. Lake Braddock handed Kecoughtan its first and only loss in the semi-finals of the first V.H.S.L. State Tournament.

As team captains, Eric Obeck and Ted Nixon were responsible for providing leadership on the pitch. Strikers Pat Mugler, Eric Obeck, and Tim Sullivan combined for 27 of Kecoughtan's district leading 39 goals. The Warriors' dependable defense which included fullbacks Glenn Briggs, Steve Bobko, Chris Rose, and Mark Lehmkuhler, Ted Nixon, and goalkeeper Matt Lord was second only to Phoebus in shutting down opponents. Halfbacks John Menditto, Billy Edgette, Chris Einselen, and Kevin Wagner gained control over the always important midfield game in and game out. The rest of the Warrior squad played an integral part in the team's success by filling in for the regulars and providing much needed support. As First Team All District Selections Matt Lord, Pat Mugle John Menditto, and Ted Nixon wer honored for their superb play. Ti Sullivan, as an Honorable Mentio choice, was the only other Warrior hor ored for his play.

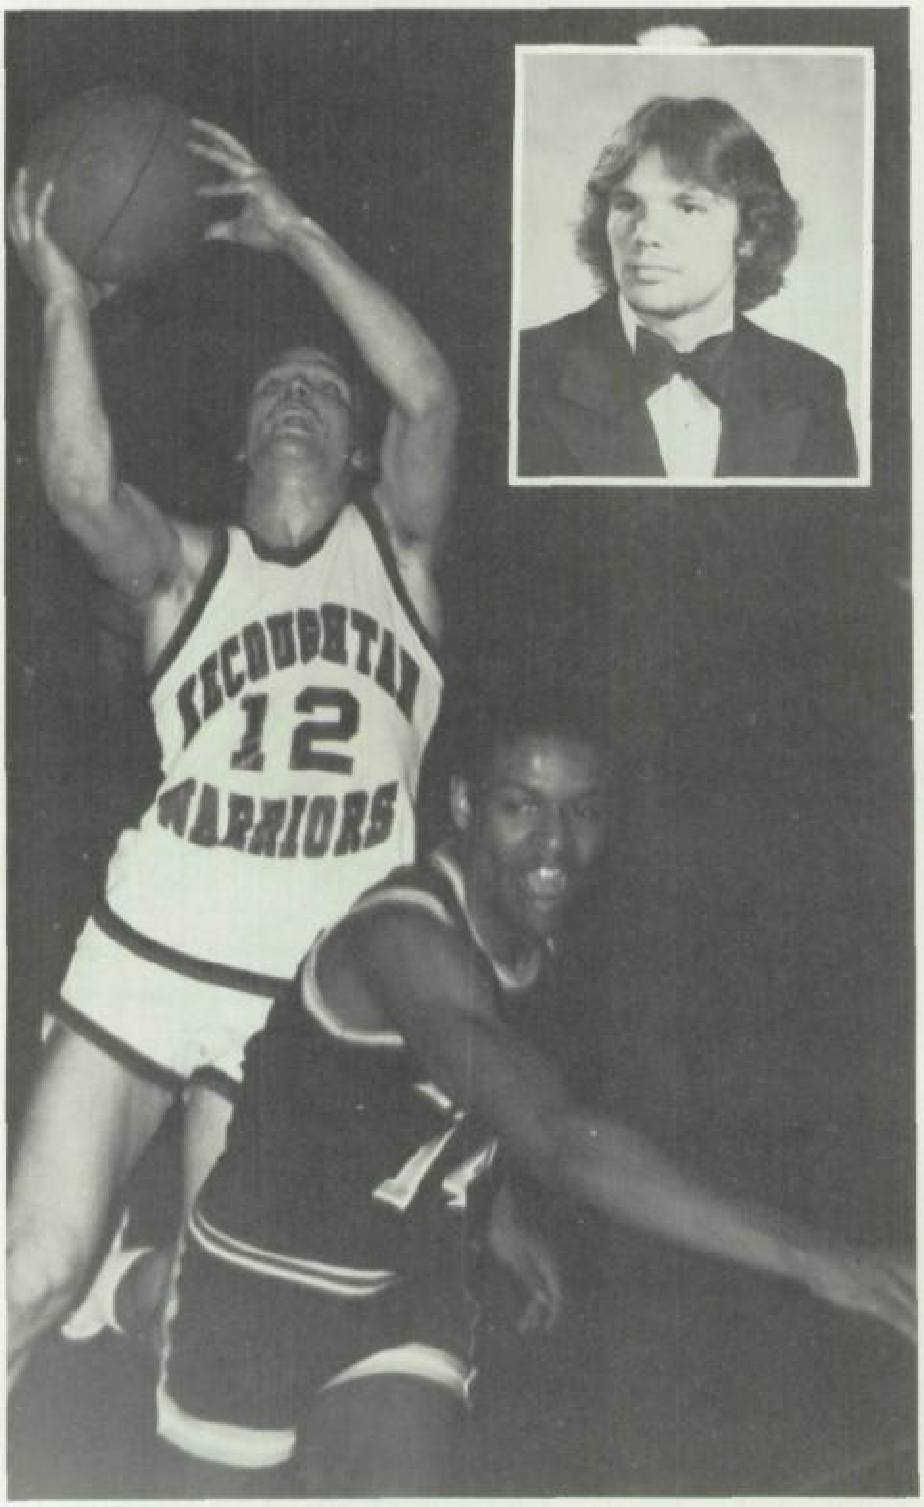
ONE OF OUR OWN

In the past, Kecoughtan has been known to have produced some of the finest athletes on the Peninsula. Each year there seems to be at least one stand out in some sport who is honored by being selected to an all-district team. This year it was Warrior Scott Woodlief who was recognized for his outstanding athletic abilities. What made him even more special was the fact that for the first time since All-District teams came into being, Woodlief achieved the honor of being selected t three first teams. In 1982, Scott wa named quarterback for the first tea football team, third baseman for th first team baseball team, and als named to the first team basketba squad. Kecoughtan is proud to hav had Scott Woodlief as part of the tribe and looks upon him as an exam ple of what determination and har work can bring.



Scott shows his athletic ability by executing a perfect lay-up.

THE BEST OF THE BEST

Each year in the late spring coaches the district get together and pick a ach from each of the various sports Coach of the Year. This award is a estigious one mainly because it is arded by coaches who play against ch other all year and then, at the d, pick one of their own for the ard. Kecoughtan was honored in 82 as this group picked a total of ur coaches from the school as the trict's best.

Coach Howard Jackson was cked by his peers as Football ach of the Year as his Warriors sted their best season ever with a to- of eight wins and two losses, one of ich was a 14-12 loss to Hampton o then went on to become the State ampions.

Baseball Coach Buddy Denton s chosen as his team rolled to a 12- district season, remained undefeated ough the regionals only to lose 2-1 J.R. Tucker in the state semi-finals. e Highland Springs team also went to become the State Champions.

First-year soccer coach Kelly ford's Warrior Booters posted a rfect district season and emerged torious in regional play but lost in e state semi-finals to Lake Braddock) as, yes, once again, that team ent on to win the State ampionship.

Another team who boasted a perfect ason and thereby brought the award Coach Steve Newman was the HS Swim Team. Although receiving le publicity or student support, this hardy team just kept on swimming and piling up the points winning more meets than any other team, thus bringing the district crown home to Kecoughtan.

These four coaches are to be commended for their knowledge of the game, their hard work and dedication and their abilities to bring out the best in the young people whom they coach.

Giving their expert guidance, Coach Howard Jackson and Coach John Pauls yells out their field plan.

A DIAMOND IN THE FIELD

Led by seniors Tim Burcham, Steve Allen, Scott Woodlief, Mark Saliba, Doug Roberson, Bob Brylewski and Jerry Day, the varsity baseball team won their fourth straight Peninsula District Championship.

After an opening 1-0 victory over Princess Anne High School in the semifinal game of the Eastern Regional Tournament, the team won their second straight Eastern Regional Championship with a 5-2 win over Churchland High School. For the second year in a row, the team's season came to a disappointing end with a 2-1 loss to State Champion J.R. Tucker High School from Richmond.

Tim Burcham provided the team with outstanding pitching throughout the entire year compiling a record of 10-2, including both regional victories. The batting title was decided in the final game of the season. Doug Roberson with an average of .309, won the closest batting title race in the history of the school, followed by Tim Burcham with .308 and Steve Allen with .306. Outstanding contributions were made by juniors Scott Dow (2-1), Jim Garner with two homeruns, and Greg Tudor, who also hit two homeruns. Junior Jody Easter was the team's catcher. Mark Saliba led the team with 18 runs batted in, along with two homeruns.

Kecoughtan led the district with five players named to the All-District Team. Honored were Steve Allen, Mark Saliba, Doug Roberson with Tim Burcham and Scott Woodlief being named for the second year in a row. Tim Burcham and Steve Allen were elected captains for this year's team. Tim Burcham was rewarded for three outstanding years by receiving an athletic scholarship to the University of Virginia.

Team honors for Most Outstanding Player, Outstanding Pitcher, Captain's Award, and three year varsity award went to Tim Burcham. Tim was also selected to play in the East-West All-Star Game. Also receiving awards were Scott Woodlief three-year varsity award, Steve Allen, captain's award, Doug Roberson, leading hitter, and Mark Saliba, Coaches' Award. Other team members included Todd Rhodes, Craig Allen, Jeff Absher, Chris Mikula, Jeff Flasch, Steve Irick and John McDonald.

RACING TO VICTORY

The Boys' Track team of 1981-82 was led by a group of four seniors who consistently placed in the top three at meets. The 400-meter relay team of Gerard Ruff, Tony Cotton, Louis Carter and James Watson placed first in the Newport News relays and second in the Hampton relays. In April, the team travelled to the Penn relays where Kecoughtan placed sixth overall. The highlight of the season was at the Peninsula Relays where the 400-meter team set an official record of 41.9 seconds. The success of the whole team was credited to a tough conditioning program which was begun in the winter, and the experienced leadership of Coach Bill Mebane, who provided the team with enthusiasm and confidence.

The Girls' Track team produced fine performances considering that they lacked depth in many of the events. Due to injuries and illness, the season started off slowly, with first-year members carrying most of the weight. In addition to the regular season meets, the girls competed in the Rebel Relays, Dogwood Relays, Peninsula Relays, Newport News Relays and Hampton Relays. Head Coach Roger Watson, who was assisted by senior Jackie Cheseman, explained that the team's difficulty was in preparing for the spring season, as there was no indoor track season in the winter. Coach Watson looks forward to the next season for which he hopes more returning members will provide the depth and experience that the season's team lacked. However, despite the fact that the odds were against them, the girls worked long and hard, and are to be commended for this.

The ICC was responsible for coordinating various club activities, such as selling candy to raise money.

Blowing their own horns, but not because they have to, members of the KHS stage band make beautiful music.

Under the leadership of Mr. Fred Pendergraft, the Kecoughtan band marched through another year of parades, football games, and concerts.

The school year started sooner for those in the band than for most students, in the form of marching practice, uniform distribution, and music rehearsals. There was a lot of grumbling under the hot sun of August and September, but nevertheless the band presented successful half-time shows at all home football games. The fall marching schedule was rounded off by participation in several parades, including Phoebus Day, Hampton Fair Day, and both the Hampton and Willow Oaks Christmas parades.

The KHS Stage Band provided a lighter aspect at band concerts, countering the Symphonic Band's extended pieces of serious music with upbeat performances of jazz and rock tunes. Its display of talent, however, was not limited exclusively to band presentations. The Stage Band played at the Miss KHS pageant, as well as performing for both the Hampton and Newport News Rotary Clubs.

The highlight of the band's year arrived on a bus from Windsor, Connecticut. In an exchange trip with Loomis-Chaffee High School in Windsor, the Connecticut students first visited Kecoughtan, followed by a visit to Windsor by the KHS band. Concerts involving both bands combined were given in Hampton and Windsor, with a side trip to New York City thrown in for the KHS students.

To close out the year, as always, the band performed the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" as the graduates entered the Coliseum on June 20th, and the stately "Crown Imperial" as yet another class left Kecoughtan.

SINGING BEAUTIFUL MUSIC

The Choral Department was the recipient of numerous awards in recognition of the outstanding crop of talent of which it consisted. Winning the first place trophy for Best Show Design and the first runner-up trophy in overall festival awards at the Blue Ridge Show Choir Invitational was the highlight of the year for the Harbor Lights Ensemble. The Ensemble took part in concerts and auditions all across the state, from the V.C.U. Regional Audition to the Fall Variety Show at KHS. Susan Lilley and Darrin McCann were honored to be chosen as members of the All Virginia Chorus, and Charlene Cole was picked as an alternate. Caleb Green was selected to be a member of the Honors Chorus by state-wide audition, and Sylvia Phillips was elected to the National High School WHO'S WHO IN MUSIC. In addition, Shelby Samuels won a first place in the District Lions Club Band Contest.

The mixed chorus and A Cappela choir performed at various functions throughout the year. Besides the Fall Variety Show, the groups were involved in the Daily Press All-City Christmas Concert at the Hampton Coliseum, the City of Hampton Tree Lighting ceremony at City Hall and the Christmas Assembly at Kecoughtan. A Capella finished the year as usual singing at Baccalaureate Service in June. They sang both the Processional and Recessional and three other numbers including the hauntingly beautiful "The Lord Bless You and Keep You" for the benediction.

Although talent is an important part of any choral group, strong leadership is just as vital. The success of the Kecoughtan choral department must be in part credited to Mrs. Lucile Sutterer as her ingenuity, enthusiasm and talent was reflected in the spirited performances of the Harbor Lights Ensemble, the Mixed Chorus and the A Cappella Choir.

Kecoughtan's DECA, under the leadership of Mrs. Pamela Szynal and Mrs. Virginia Johnson, was busy all year, from participation in Hampton Fair Day in September to the Awards Banquet in June. A few of the highlights of these activities were the SCA Thanksgiving Basket drive with their contributions of two baskets, the Christmas Craft Shop and Faculty Open House and contributions to the SCA Christmas Family Project, district and state leadership conferences, the City-wide Employer-Employee Luncheon, and the Career Development Conference in Chicago from June 26 to July 1.

Honors abounded as the club took a total of 38 awards which included three first-place winners at the District Leadership Conference held in March. April found the club at the State Leadership Conference held in Norfolk

LEARNING THROUGH DOING

Members of the KHS VICA were the recipients of numerous awards for the 1981-82 school year. At the District Fall Rally held at Phoebus High School, Lisa Ackermann won first place in cosmetology, Frankie Vison placed first in Extemporaneous Speaking and Terry Williams in the Poster Category. Reginald Hicks accomplished citizen rank in the VICA achievement program. Other activities that the club participated in were the State Leadership Conference in Lynchburg, an Employer-Employee Banquet, a district picnic, and various field trips to established businesses in the area. In all, VICA had a successful year and sent graduating seniors out into the business world confident that they would succeed.

Glad to receive the award, Sharon Duck listens to the presentation.

TOMORROW'S BUSINESS LEADERS

"Successful" would be the word that described the Future Business Leaders of America during the 1981-82 school year. Composed of students studying accounting, stenography, typing and other business courses, the organization got off to a fast start with the election of officers. Picked as president was senior Sandra Morr who was aided by vice-president Bobby Barkers, secretary Marie Bentz, treasurer Tina Roe and parliamentarian Debbie Carter.

Sponsored by Mrs. Joyce Mitchell, the FBLA participated in both schoolwide candy sales to raise money for state competition held in Roanoke, Virginia. In preliminary competition held at Thomas Nelson Community College, Kecoughtan came away with two first-place winners: Donna-Lyn Mears in Stenography II and Amy Hurt in Stenography I. Jennifer Burt and Sandra Morr both brought in second-place honors in the poster contest. Donna-Lyn and Amy then advanced to state competition where Donna-Lyn placed second in Stenography II.

Success of the FBLA was attributed to the hard work of the students who, in turn, were encouraged by a very enthusiastic sponsor.

TOWARD NEW HORIZONS

Preparing themselves for the future, members of the Future Homemakers of America actively participated in many activities during the 1981-82 school year. Club officers were President Veronica Bembry, vice-president of programs Pam Burrell, vice-president of recreation Candy Turner, Secretary Cindy Moore, Treasurer Debra Coles and ICC Representative Renee Heustis. One of their most successful programs was a workshop to stop smoking which was held in conjunction with a project by the American Lung Association. On May 11, a city-wide meeting was held at Gosnold's Hope Park for the Hampton Federation of FHA chapters for which junior Michelle Blotzer served as president. Playing important roles in the Clean and Green Campaign and the Miss KHS Pageant, the FHA proved to be a significant part of the school.

Not wasting time after cheerleading selections were made in May, 1981, the JV and Varsity Cheerleaders began preparing for the upcoming year. Candy sales helped to raise money to send the girls to a summer camp sponsored by the National Cheerleading Association where the varsity squad received a Spirit Award and superior rating. With the help of Sponsor Mrs. June Tharpe and captain Karen Krodel, afternoon practices dedicated to the perfection of various cheers, chants and stunts prepared the girls for the upcoming football and basketball seasons. Instigating a cheering force that encouraged the players and aroused the spectators, the JV and Varsity cheerleaders proved to be a necessary part of the Kecoughtan spirit.

Preparing for their next cheer, the varsity cheerleaders line up in perfect order.

POLISHED PERFORMERS

Appearing both polished and perfect at pep rallies and football games, the majorettes and flagtwirlers entertained crowds with their dazzling performances. Although they made what they did look easy, it took endless hours of practice both at summer camp and after school to perfect the difficult routines. At the National Majorette Band Clinic held in Raleigh, North Carolina, the majorettes received one superior ribbon for best routine, one excellent ribbon for best novelty routine and three outstanding ribbons for best all-around performances at camp.

NAVAL SCIENCE IN ACTION

Kecoughtan's NJROTC began the year under a new Naval Science instructor, LCDR Beale Kinsey who was assisted by Senior Chief Arthur Spriggs, a twelve-year veteran at the school.

Ably representing the school in parades and drill meets during the year, the unit gathered first-place awards in the Phoebus Day Parade, the Hampton Christmas Parade and the Gloucester Christmas Parade, and wound up the year by taking the Judges Trophy at the Poquoson Firemen Parade in June. Drill meets included the NJROTC Regional Drill Meet at Little Creek and the Norfolk State University Drill Meet. The unit also participated in the Yorktown Bicentennial Parade in October and the KHS Homecoming Parade.

Events during the year included a fall picnic, participation in the SCA Thanksgiving project, a raffle for raising money, a Christmas party, the Military Ball held at Langley Officer's Club in April, and Careers Day at the Hampton Coliseum. The Honor Guard presented both the Football and Basketball Homecoming Courts and performed during the crowning exercise at the Miss KHS Pageant in March.

Student Company Commander position was held by Olen Payne, Jr. first semester and, for the first time in the unit's history, a female cadet, Robin McIntire took over as Commander second semester.

NJROTC Club officers this year included Ralph Boyd, president; Darryl Barnes, secretary; and Robin McIntire, treasurer.

SERVICE WITH A SMILE

Maintaining their reputation for being a community service organization, the Keyettes participated in a wide variety of activities during the 1981-82 school year. Sponsored by Mrs. Debra Mortimer and Mrs. Cheryl Carter, and led by President Carolyn Doyle, this active group was a important ingredient in Kecoughtan's overall success. Before every holiday, the Keyettes sold candy grams, and they, along with the Key Club, were responsible for producing the annual Mistletoe and Holly Ball.

The fact that members had to earn the right to stay in the club through a point system resulted in almost total participation in every activity. Regular visits to their adopted Grandmother was a fine example of outside services they provided, as was their support in the Special Olympics and the Fort Monroe Child Care Center Easter Egg Hunt. Although being a Keyette was at times demanding, the feeling of accomplishment was ample reward for the members.

TIES FOR ALL SEASONS

Active in both school and community projects, the Key Club made a definite mark during the 81-82 school year. With members easily identifiable in their dress shirts and ties, the Clubbers jointly sponsored the Mistletoe and Holly Ball and went to local malls to ring bells for the Salvation Army during the Christmas season.

Participation in the Heart Fund Drive and the Cancer Drive was their most successful venture into the community. With money raised throughout the year, the Key Club was able to sponsor a delegate to Boy's State.

Sponsor Mr. John Quinn and President Scott Walker led the group with a strong sense of optimism and determination that was responsible for the achievements of the Key Club.

THE YEAR IN BIND

Layout, copy, pictures: these words were constantly being heard in room D-2 after school as a very small staff tried to put together precious memories for the rest of the student body. Under the leadership of Editor Erin McCarthy, Head Photographer Liz Williams and Sponsor Mrs. Norma Seals, words and pictures were added together to make up the pages of the yearbook, the TOMAHAWK.

Though sometimes the staff found the work to be dull and tedious and underappreciated, a sense of satisfaction began to grow as the pages started to form and ideas took hold. Photographers often gave up their evenings to get pictures of events while the staff took two weeks of their summer to finish the book. When the book was finally completed, the whole staff drew twin sighs of relief and satisfaction for a job well done.

NEWS STARS

TRIBAL TALES, Kecoughtan's newspaper is one terrific publication and one of which students on the Reservation can be justly proud. Putting out ten issues per year kept staff members busy as they gathered news and information, shot and developed pictures, and wrote the various feature columns and editorials. Seniors Eric Obeck and Carolyn Doyle served as Editor and Co-Editor respectively and, as such, carefully proofed every item before the paper went to press.

Under the veteran leadership of Sponsor Mrs. Joel Grimm, the newspaper (as usual) gathered many honors throughout the year. Perhaps the most prestigious was the All American Award which is the top award given by the National School Press Association. TRIBAL TALES also brought in a First Place in the Virginia High School League competition held in Charlottesville each year. Out of the nine prizes given by the Peninsula Tidewater Journalism Contest which is sponsored jointly by the DAILY PRESS in Hampton-Newport News, the LEDGER STAR in Norfolk and the Virginia Press Women, TRIBAL TALES took three awards. Mark Lehmkuhler won a first in feature writing, Kate Taylor received a third in the same category and Scott Walker garnered a first in news writing and went on to win third in the state.

The newspaper staff produced a publication that informed students of school events, focused on students' achievements, and gave students' views on different subjects. The 1981-82 school year was a very successful one for TRIBAL TALES and its hard-working, efficient staff.

LITERARY ART

Outstanding literary and artistic talents of KHS students were featured in the school literary magazine, the TORCH. Between September and March a steady stream of original poetry, prose and artwork kept the small staff busy as the selection process demanded many careful readings of each submitted article.

Advisor Mrs. Evelyn Dawkins and Editor John Jones not only led the dedicated staff at the weekly meetings, but they also managed several successful fundraising drives. Besides the schoolwide candy sales, the TORCH staff sold calendars which featured pictures of the various clubs and organizations at Kecoughtan. Although small, the group showed their might when they produced an eye-catching Thanksgiving Basket and placed first in the schoolwide Clean and Green project. When the final result arrived from the printers late in May, a good deal of credit was given not only to those whose works were published, but also to those who produced the magazine.

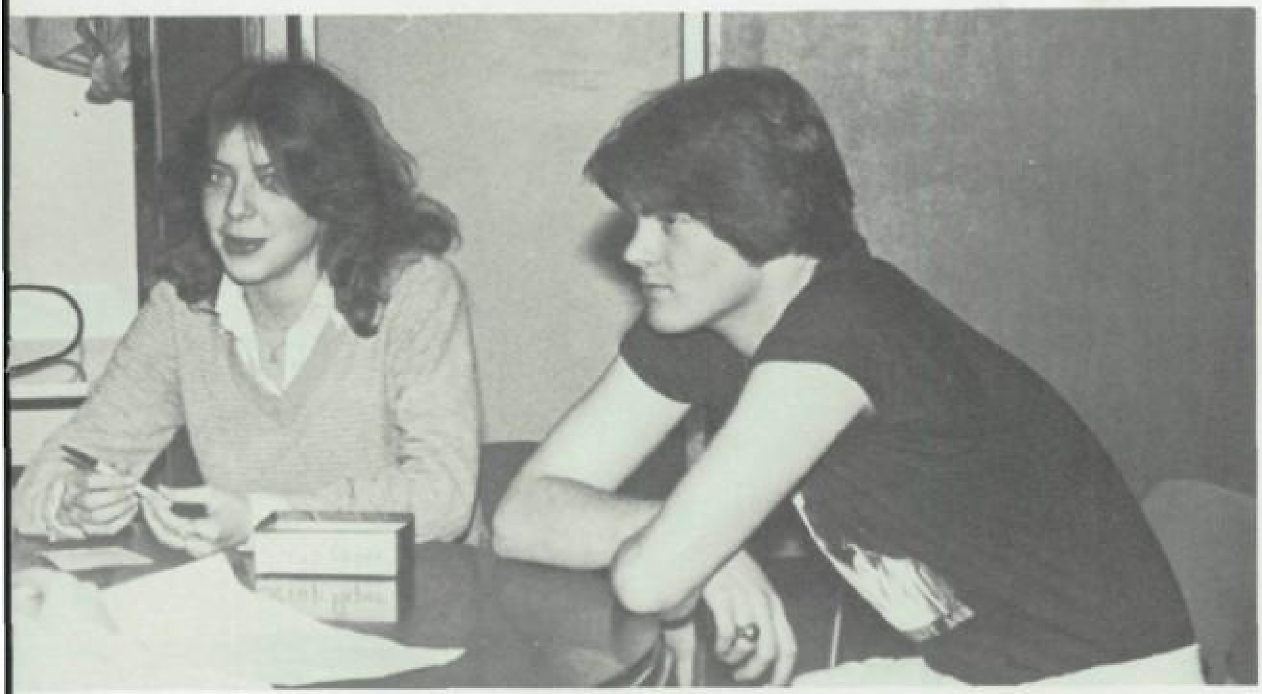
A NEW BEAT



Tom-Tom a former radio station changed with the times. Now on television the Tom-Tom broadcasted on channel 29, cable during 1982. A DIFFERENT LING

The opportunity of taking a foreign language was enhanced by the fact that each language class offered exclusive membership into a club. The language clubs at Kecoughtan were blessed by outstanding leadership and the chance to learn first hand about other cultures. The German Club, led by Mr. Jim Horne, sponsored sixteen high school students from Germany. Their three-week stay in Hampton was marked by visits to Washington, D.C., Colonial Williamsburg, NASA, and the Newport News-Norfolk Harbor Tour. Other activities of the German Club included a trip to Busch Gardens and dinner at a German restaurant in Newport News.

The French Club also had the opportunity to sponsor a French student during the Bicentennial Yorktown Celebration. Pascal Pigeon and his hostess Ruth Gates appeared on the "Good Morning Tidewater" TV show. In addition the French Club made a display banner for Mercury Boulevard in honor of National Foreign Language Week, went on a field trip to the Chrysler Art Museum and had a French dinner at the Chamberlain Hotel.

Latin and Spanish Clubs concentrated mainly on in-school activities as they actively participated in the Foreign Language Banquet and the Clean and Green Campaign.

Through cultural activities in these clubs, the students gained much knowledge to add to what they learned in the classroom.

GIRLS/BOYS STATE—PRESIDENTIAL CLASSROOM

Through organizations both inside and outside the school, programs were operated and sponsored to give additional learning experiences to chosen students. These programs consisted of Girl's and Boy's State sponsored by the American Legion, Presidential Classroom sponsored by Presidential Classrooms, Inc., and Governor's School. Kecoughtan had the opportunity to send delegations to all of these important and rewarding programs.

A full delegation of young men and women in the junior class were sent to Girl's State held at Longwood College and Boy's State which was held at Lynchburg College in June. There these students participated in mock elections and in the running of localities and the state. Of the young men sent to Boy's State this year, Sean Butler was elected a senator and was successful in getting four legislative bills passed. Aaron Robinson was elected President Pro-Tem of the Senate and Ben Farmer, Sergeant-at-Arms. Over at Girl's State Stacey Strawn ran for Governor and was very narrowly defeated. Although she didn't win, Stacey described the experience as being very rewarding and educational.

Held in Washington, D.C. Presidential Classroom gave seniors the opportunity to study about national government and the different parts that each branch of government plays. At Governor's School, junior Paul Eversole and sophomore Michelle Heaphy had a month of intense study in a field of their choice.

Kecoughtan and its supporting groups gave these students a chance to broaden their horizons and to learn in different settings.

Led by an impressive NJROTC Color Guard, the Homecoming Parade, made up of a colorful menagerie of clowns, floats and marching units, wound its way from City Hall to the football stadium. The units were met along the route by enthusiastic electric Homecoming atmostphere.

The parade and half-time activities had been the culmination of Spirit Week. Throughout the week students had displayed their spirit with a kaliedescope of wild and imaginative costumes beginning with Hat and Glasses day on Monday. Bum day followed and Punk Rock day was Wednesday, which gave free reign to imaginative students who arrived at school showing off very strange attire topped with blue and green hair. Thursday brought Cowboy and Indian day and Friday was the traditional Green and White day.

Friday afternoon found a boisterous student body in the Kecoughtan gym for the first competitive pep rally of the year. Showing an amazing amount of spirit, the sophomores captured first place and the spirit jug while the juniors and seniors placed second and third respectively.

YORKTOWN DAY

The sun shone brightly on October 19, the two-hundredth anniversary of the American victory over the British at Yorktown and the true beginning of American independence from British rule. It was commemorated with a week-long celebration, including a reenactment of the Battle of Yorktown and the formal surrender of the British army.

President Reagan was present at the festivities along with foreign dignitaries from around the world, including French President Francoise Mitterand.

All around the Yorktown battlefield were numerous exhibitions of life during the 18th century as well as present-day Army weaponry. It was a day to remember the sacrifices of the men and women of the Revolution and to give thanks for our hard-fought freedom.

With guns shouldered and colors unfurled, this detachment of Continentals marches through Yorktown just as their real-life counterparts must have done two centuries ago.

The face of this drummer lends a note of solemnity to the celebration as he keeps his unit in step.

The Basketball Homecoming for the 1982 season almost did not happen. Due to the inclement weather at the time, Kecoughtan's adversaries at Lafayette High School could not make the trip. The dance, however, went on as scheduled, having as its centerpiece the Homecoming Queen, Ruth Williams, and her court: Senior attendants Kate Taylor and Karen Krodel, Junior attendants Kim Coates and Lori Tellinger, and the Sophomore attendants Teresa Harper and Hallie McKinley.

. . . AND WE ROASTED THE RAMS

Fortunately, it was possible to reschedule the game two weeks later, enabling both the varsity and Girl's varsity teams to add another victory to their records. Thus, the almost-downed 1982 Homecoming turned out in the end to be a rousing triumph for the Warriors.

TALENT LTD

Fame . . .

As the curtain rose on the fifteenth annual Miss KHS pageant, a hush fell over the audience. After weeks of hard work and practice, fourteen dedicated girls danced to the pageant theme song, "Fame."

I wanna live forever . . . .

This years pageant was co-chaired by Seniors Sandy Davis and Susan Hundley with the help of several enthusiastic committee members. Mr. John Karachikas was the Master of Ceremonies, and seniors Tony Williams and Jesse Wallace along with juniors Jody Easter and Lucius Alston served as escorts for the contestants.

I wanna learn how to fly . . .

After each girl modeled her casual wear, eight finalists, who were chosen during the preliminaries the night before, were announced. Each finalist then presented their talent, and after entertainment by the KHS Stage Band, under the direction of Mr. Fred Pendergraft, all of the contestants returned to the stage to model their evening gowns.

I feel it comin' together . . .

After the presentation, each of the eight finalists answered a question which dealt with their views on different subjects. At this time, Miss KHS 1981, Anita Dixon, took her final stroll down the runway.

Baby remember my name . . .

The contestants and the audience alike held their breath as they awaited the announcement of Miss KHS 1982. Senior Kym Martin was named Most Dedicated while Dawn Evans was awarded Miss Congeniality. Charlene Cole was awarded Most Talented and first runner up. The magic moment had finally come and the audience waited breathlessly for the announcement of Sylvia Phillips as Miss KHS 1982.

AN ENDLESS EVENING

From early September until mid-April the Class of '83 labored to raise money which would go towards their biggest event of the year—the Junior Ring Dance. The Theme for the evening of April 24 was "Endless Love," and the cafeteria was transformed into a candlelit wonder with a flowered entranceway and crepe paper streamers. The band, Fantasy I, played a variety of popular music which entertained even those who preferred not to dance. Halfway through the evening, President Sean Butler called everyone into a circle to begin the ring ceremony. After the turning of the rings, class sponsor Mrs. Pearl Ray was presented with roses in appreciation of all her hard work and dedication.

As the theme song "Endless Love" played in the background, the happy couples danced their last dance to what they wished could be an endless evening.

As they enter, Theresa Olson and Sean Westmoreland appear amazed at the transformation of the onc drab cafeteria.

Although he appears to be stomping a cockroach, this dancer is actually showing his date a new dance.

SAND, SUN, SURF

To the unknowing, Kecoughtan was mysteriously quiet on Friday, May 28; halls were relatively uncrowded and many classrooms were either half or completely empty. To those in the know, this strangeness was caused by the absence of seniors, who, finally succombing to the dread disease called senioritis, headed for the only places that offered a cure—the beaches.

Nags Head beaches came alive as these seniors hit the area armed with surf-boards, sun-tan lotion, and other items all having guaranteed curative powers. Seniors had an enjoyable time as they surfed, socialized, swam, sunned, had meaningful group encounter sessions and played games. Time passed all too quickly; the Class of '82 reluctantly came home tanned, burned, and exhausted—but cured—to face another rigourous month of studies.

Arriving at the beach, Gene Grant and Eric Obeck head for the surf.

While enjoying the sun, Robert Wright builds h castle in the sand.

Watching the setting sun, Wade Unger and Paula Owens enjoy the time togther.

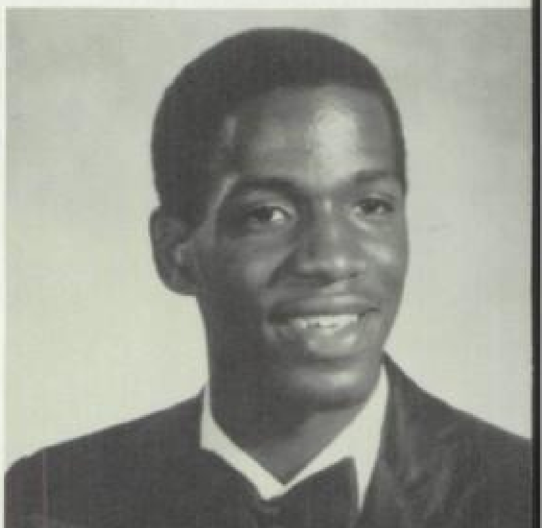
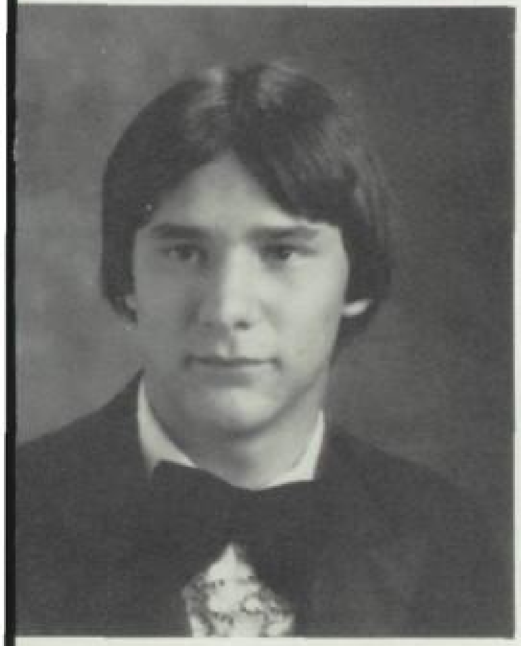
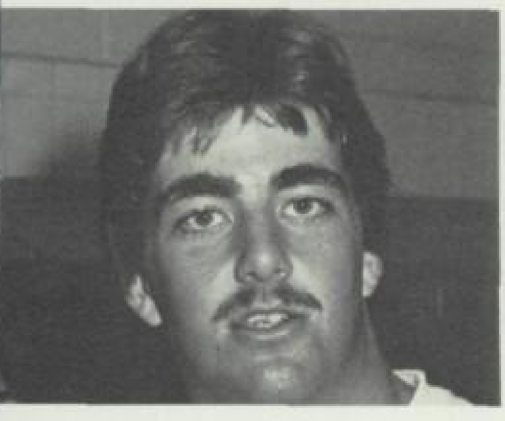
THE BEST AND THE BRIGHTEST



There is a Football Hall of Fame; there is a Baseball Hall of Fame; there is even a Rodeo Hall of Fame. But, there is another Hall of Fame that is every bit as important to students on the Reservation: the Kecoughtan Senior Hall of Fame. What is it? It is . . . that prestigious group of seniors, who, selected by their peers, excelled in athletics, intelligence, talent—and the all-important categories of class clown, biggest procrastinator and biggest flirt. Voting took place in the merry month of May in government classes where seniors very seriously attempted to pick a male and a female for each of the very eminent categories. Names of the winners were a well-kept secret until the all-important Hall of Fame Assembly. And this year, with Jeannie Lamers and Kevin Newsome acting as co-masters of ceremonies, the breathlessly awaited results were announced. They were: as follows:



MOST POPULAR: Bob Brylewski and Sandy Davis
MOST INTELLECTUAL: Scott Walker and Kate Taylor
BEST ALL AROUND: Eric Obeck and Sandy Davis
MOST ATHLETIC: Scott Woodlief and Elizabeth Stillwell
MOST UNDERSTANDING: Gerald Billups and Diana Worthington
BIGGEST PROCRASTINATOR: Mark Lemkuhler and Erin McCarthy
FRIENDLIEST: Carnell Gibson and Roxanne Lopez
MOST TALENTED: Don Harrison and Sylvia Phillips
BEST DRESSED: Tony Williams and Kelly League
BEST LOOKING: Jessie Wallace and Lawanda Hughes
MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED: Scott Walker and Kate Taylor
CLASS CLOWN: Stan Gorski and Molly Mugler
WITTIEST: Matt Lord and Kris Bond
MOST SCHOOL SPIRITED: Stan Gorski and Robbin Greer
QUIETEST: Ted Blizzard and Brenda Williams
BIGGEST FLIRT: John Shaw and Malina Rodriguez



THE LAST OF ITS KIND

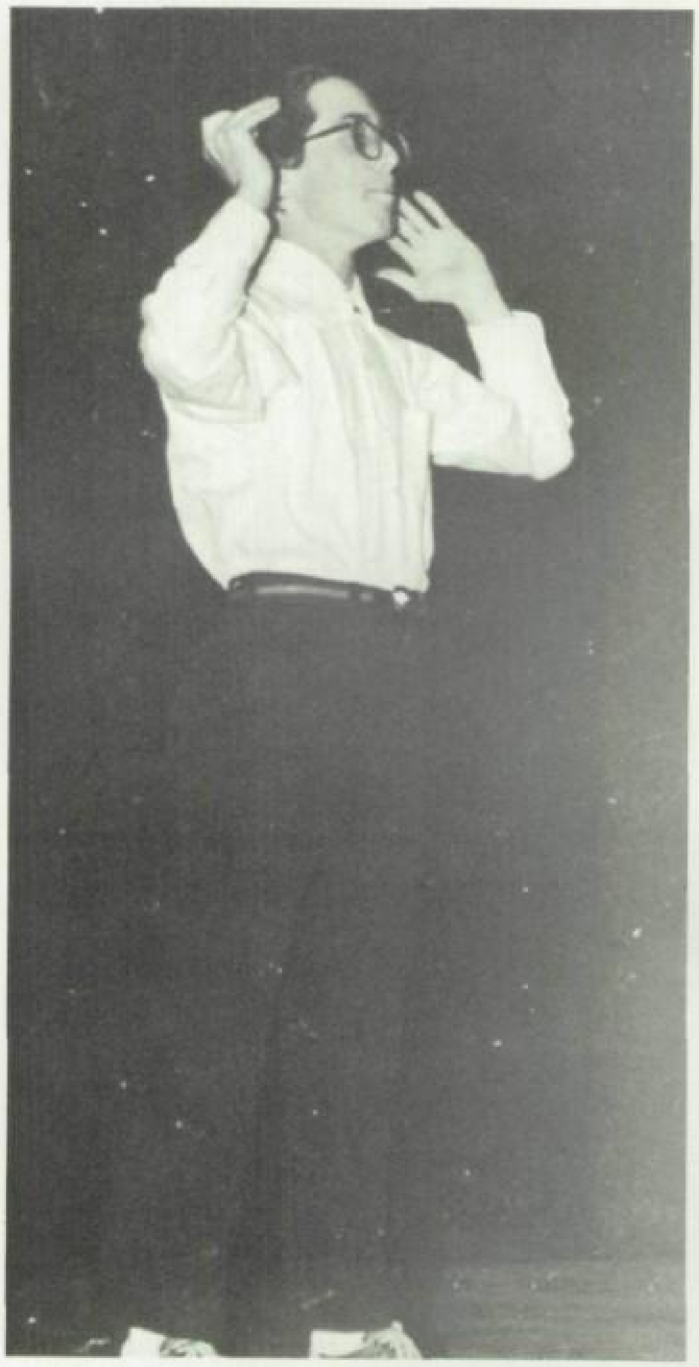
With a format centered somewhat around a newsbreak of SATURDAY NIGHT LIVE, Class Night got off to a kicking start with Kris Bond and Kelvin Newsome acting as co-masters of ceremonies. Skits such as the Driver's Education and Miss KHS Pageant humorously portrayed aspects of the school.

However, due to a faulty sound system and an unruly audience, the skits, however well-planned, fell far short of what they could have been.

Musical numbers were performed; "Leather and Lace" was well received, but the number that brought the crowd to their feet was "Louie, Louie."

After a rendition of the class song, the Senior Class left the auditorium and the question in their minds was "Will there ever be another Class Night?"

Co-masters Kelvin Newsome and Kris Bond start off the class night show with a bang.



Phil Moore slicks back his hair as he prepares to ask the girl of his dreams out for a date.

Kim Martin and a friend entertain the audience with their satire of the Go-Go's.

my, I won!" exclaims Sean Westmoreland as he accepts the of Miss Voluptuous KHS.

th a smile and a quick step, Kris Bond introduces the next testant, Lance Yonkos.

Diana Worthington and Ruth Williams present the traditional sophomore skit, bringing laughter to themselves and the audience.

The band gets the crowd to its feet (and later on the stage) as it performs its smash hit.

MAY 27, 1982

It was a cool, but not a chilly night; the wind was blowing softly and the stars were shining brightly on the bay. It was a night for romance: a perfect evening for the Senior Prom held at the Fort Monroe Officer's Club.

As couples arrived at the club which sits on the edge of the beach, they were announced by Mr. Jeff Cannon, and each had their last chance to vote for prom king and queen. The melodic sounds of the band, Kick, echoed through the room as couples edged their way out on the packed dance floor. For those couples who wished to enjoy the fresh air and/or the moon shining on the water, a walk on the deck was a necessity.

As midnight neared, quiet pervaded the scene as the seniors and guests watched co-chairpersons Lori Diffenderfer and Robbin Greer present flowers to Sponsor Mrs. Evelyn Oliver in appreciation for her efforts on behalf of the Class of '82. The next event climaxed the evening's activities as seniors applauded their choice of Jesse Wallace and Susie Bingol as Prom King and Queen. As seniors danced to the prom theme "Just Once," silence fell on the dance floor as it was realized that this was one time that could only come—just once.

Striking up a conversation, Susie Bingol asks Jesse Wallace, "Your palace or mine?"

While voting for the Prom King, Tracy Peet asks, "Can I vote for more than one guy?"

Good times enjoyed by the seniors at the Prom reflected in the smiles of Rusty Melton and Maryl Behan.

JUST ONCE

ert Shuford samples the cuisine to make sure it's safe for the rest of the prom les.

Not noticing that the music has stopped Caroline Miller and Kevin Janssen continue dancing.

Making sure the lines are straight, Lori Diffenderfer carefully slices the cake.

A SOLEMN GATHERING

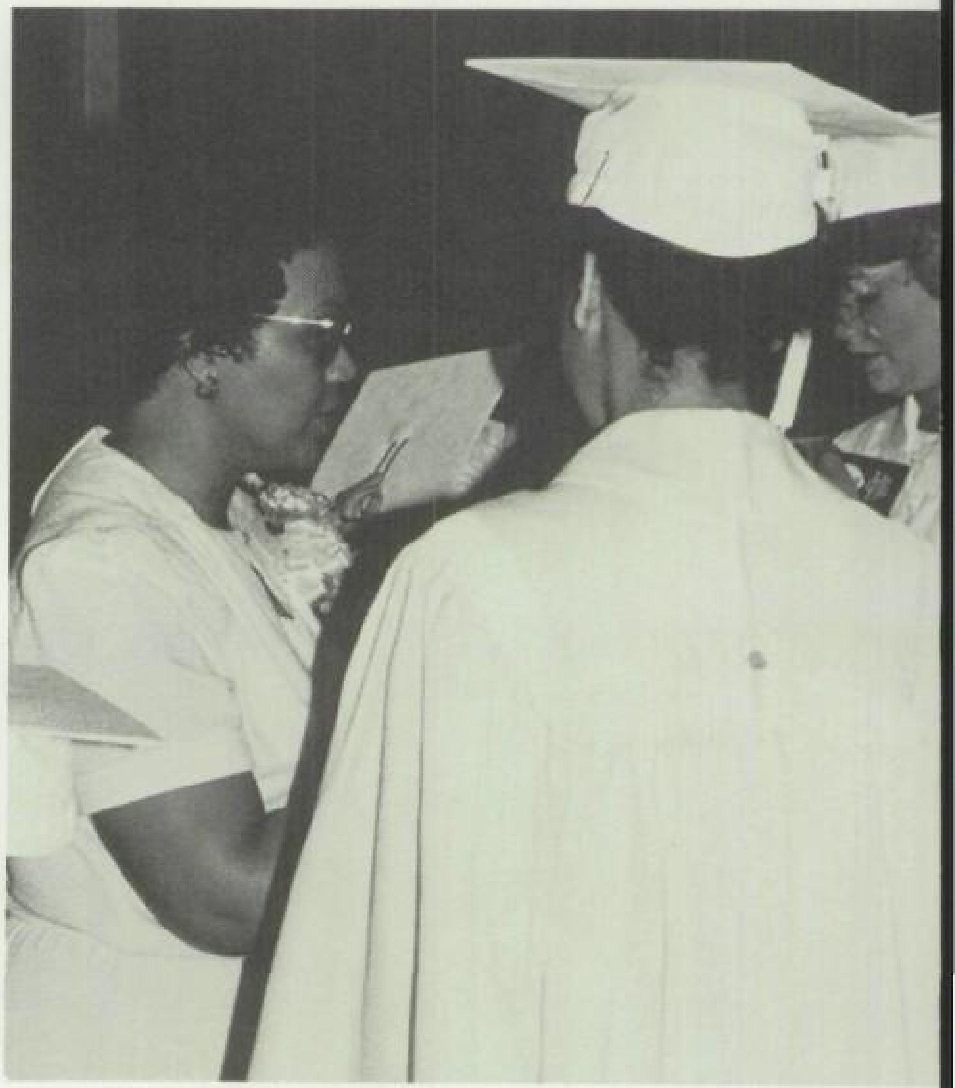
Baccalaureate is by tradition a dignified and solemn event and this year's services were no exception. As seniors filed into their designated seats, the class officers and guests took their places on the stage.

State Senator Hunter B. Andrews gave the address and the Reverend Sidney Williams, who is also a guidance counselor at KHS, gave both the invocation and the benediction. Both the Processional and Recessional were provided by the A'Capella Choir; the Choir, during the program sang two numbers by Gounod: "O Divine Redeemer" and "Sanctus." A choral benediction, Larkin's "The Lord Bless You and Keep You" was also rendered by the Choir.

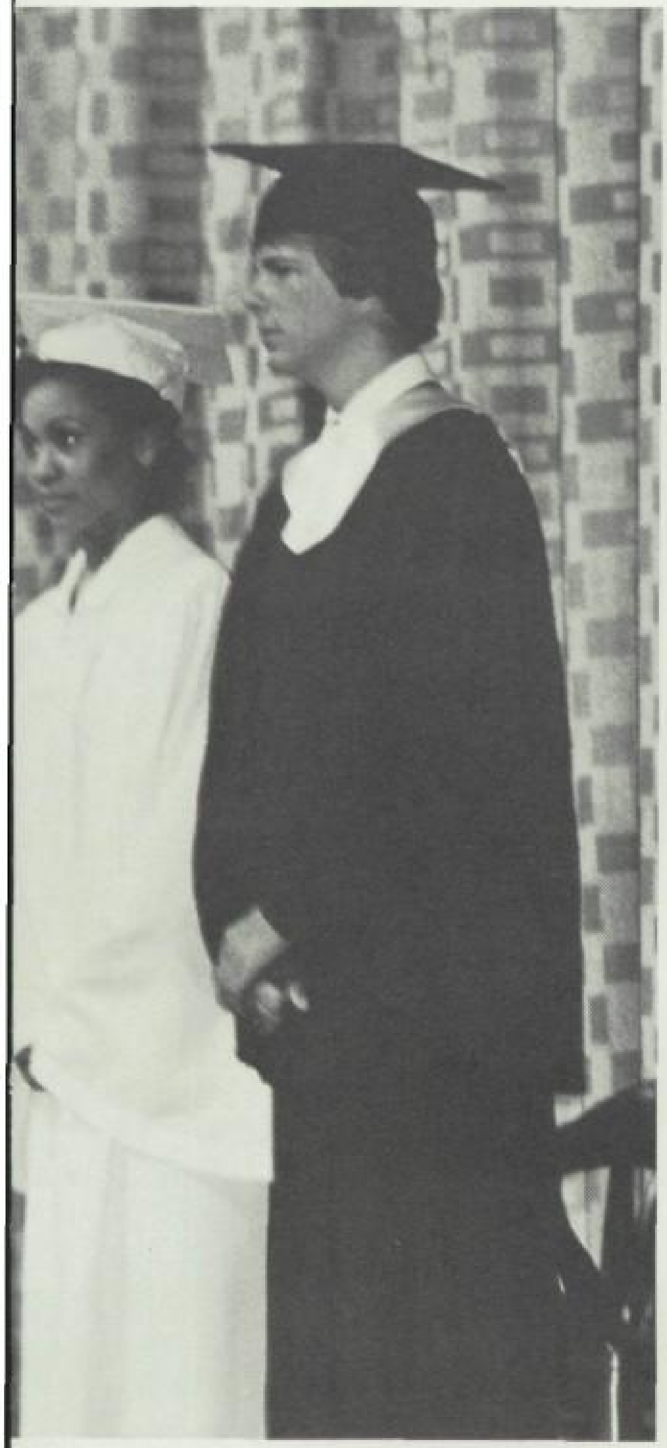
Following the service, a reception was held in the cafeteria where cake and punch were served to seniors and their guests.

Waiting for instructions to line up, Todd Coates, Derrick Jeffries, and Phil Moore make last minute justments on their hats.

Before the ceremony begins, Mr. Gillikin checks the program to be sure he knows the format.



Mrs. Oliver tells the girls how to line up for the Baccalauraete exercises.



ss officers Sandy Davis and Robert Shuford watch mnly as their classmates file into the auditorium for calaureate Services.

Senator Hunter B. Andrews addresses the senior class on the responsibilities of life.

Fearful that it will get knocked off in the crowd, Debbie Karsay holds on tightly to her hat.

e senior class officers grin at the opening remarks of Senator Andrews.

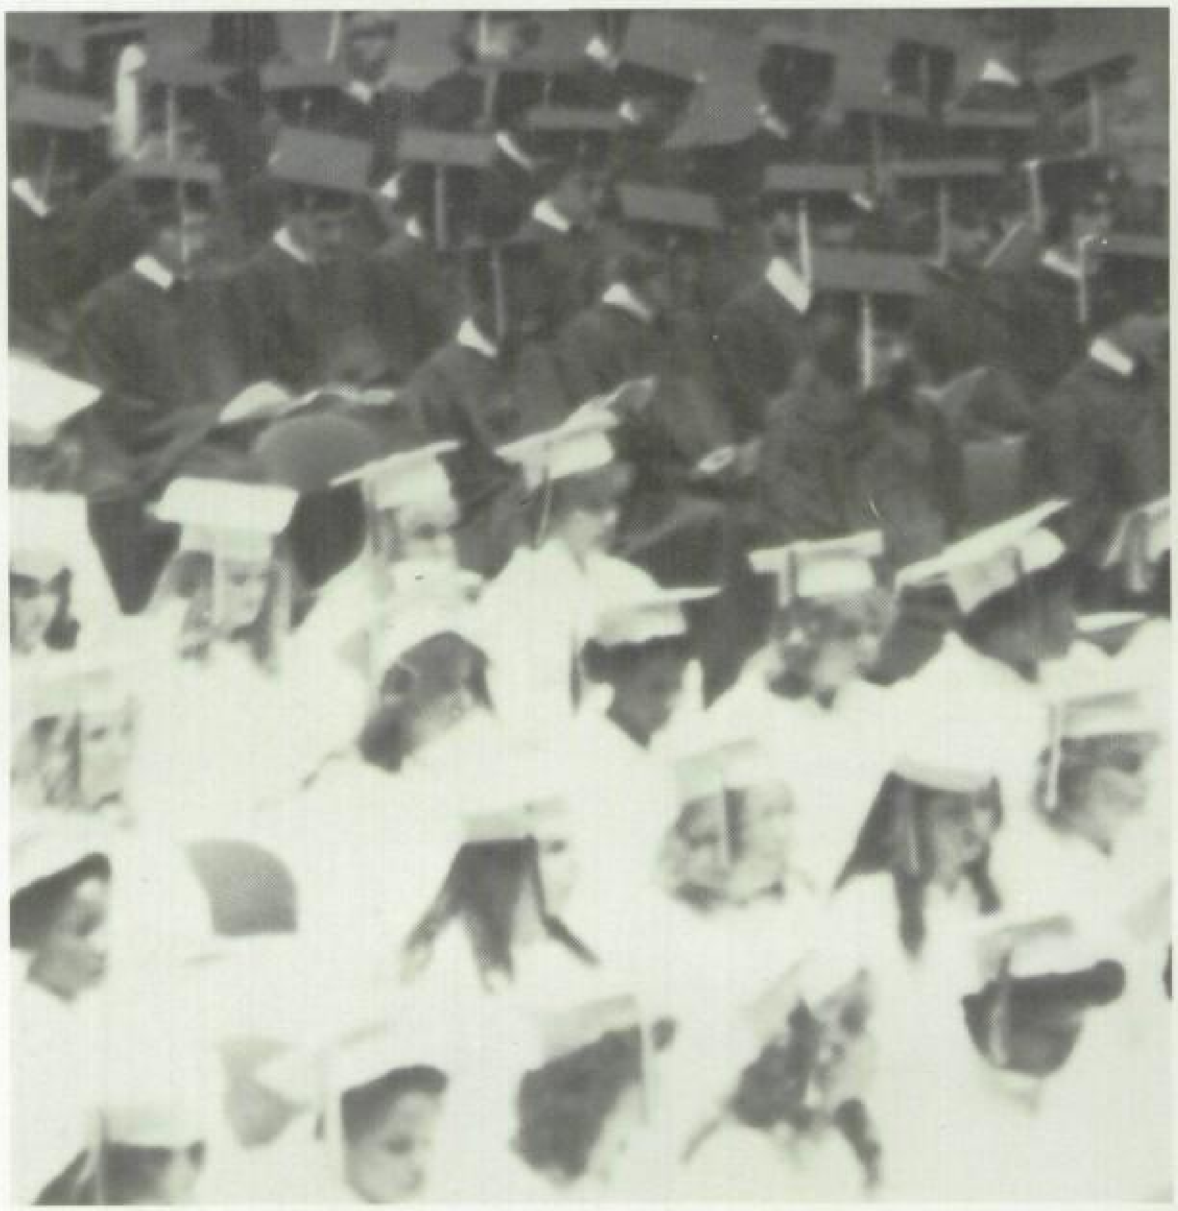
THE FINAL STEP

Graduation—an awesome word—and an occasion anxiously awaited by seniors for twelve years. Gathering together for the last time, the Class of '82 arrived on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 on June 20 at the Hampton Coliseum to receive their award for those twelve years in school—their diplomas.

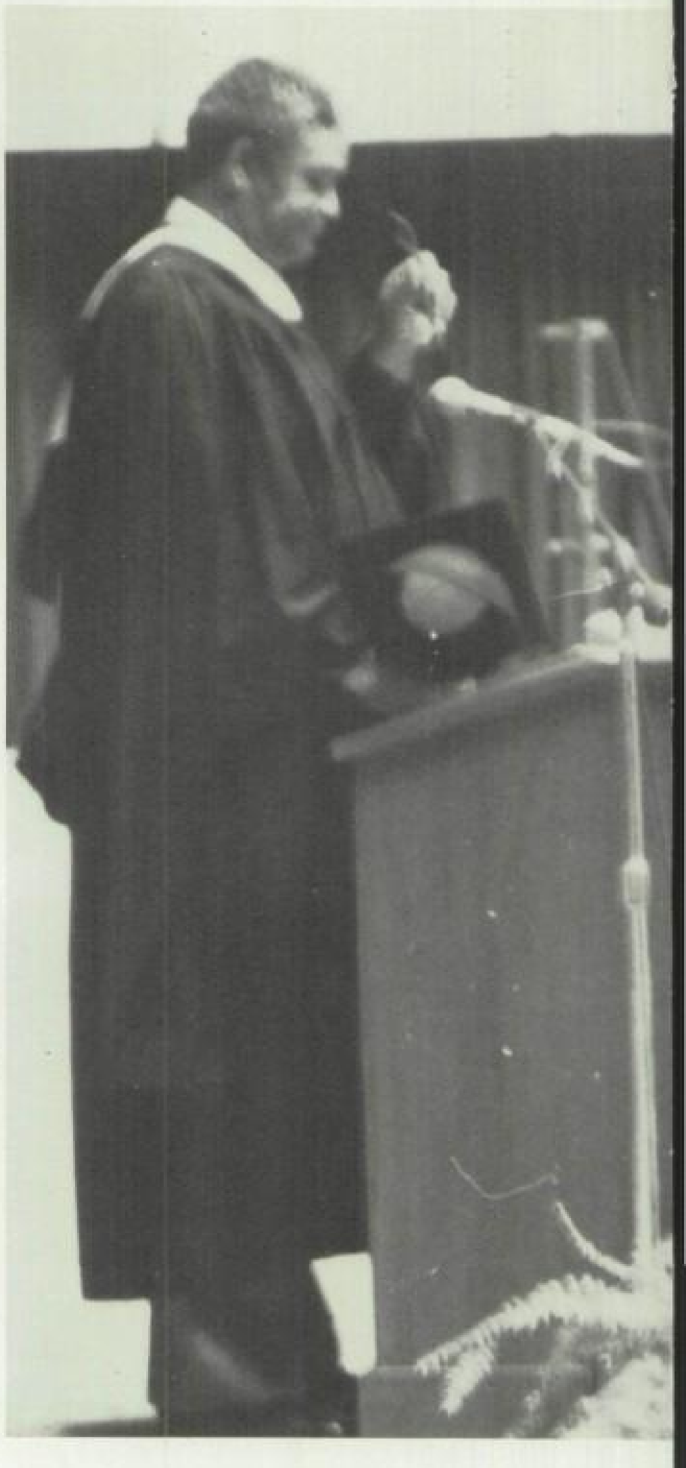
Entering the Coliseum floor to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" rendered by the KHS Band, they found their assigned seats and the ceremony began. Seniors listened to their fellow classmates Sandy Davis, Mark Lemkuhler and Scott Walker give their impressions on what graduation meant to them and to a short message by Superintendent Edward R. Szetela who, as Kecoughtan's first principal, enlightened them on some of the school's history and wished them well.

After the long process of receiving diplomas, the class arose and, following Class President Sandy Davis, switched their tassels from right to left, thereby officially graduating. Following the playing of the Alma Mater, the class recessed with mixed emotions of joy, regret and anticipation as to what tomorrow would bring.

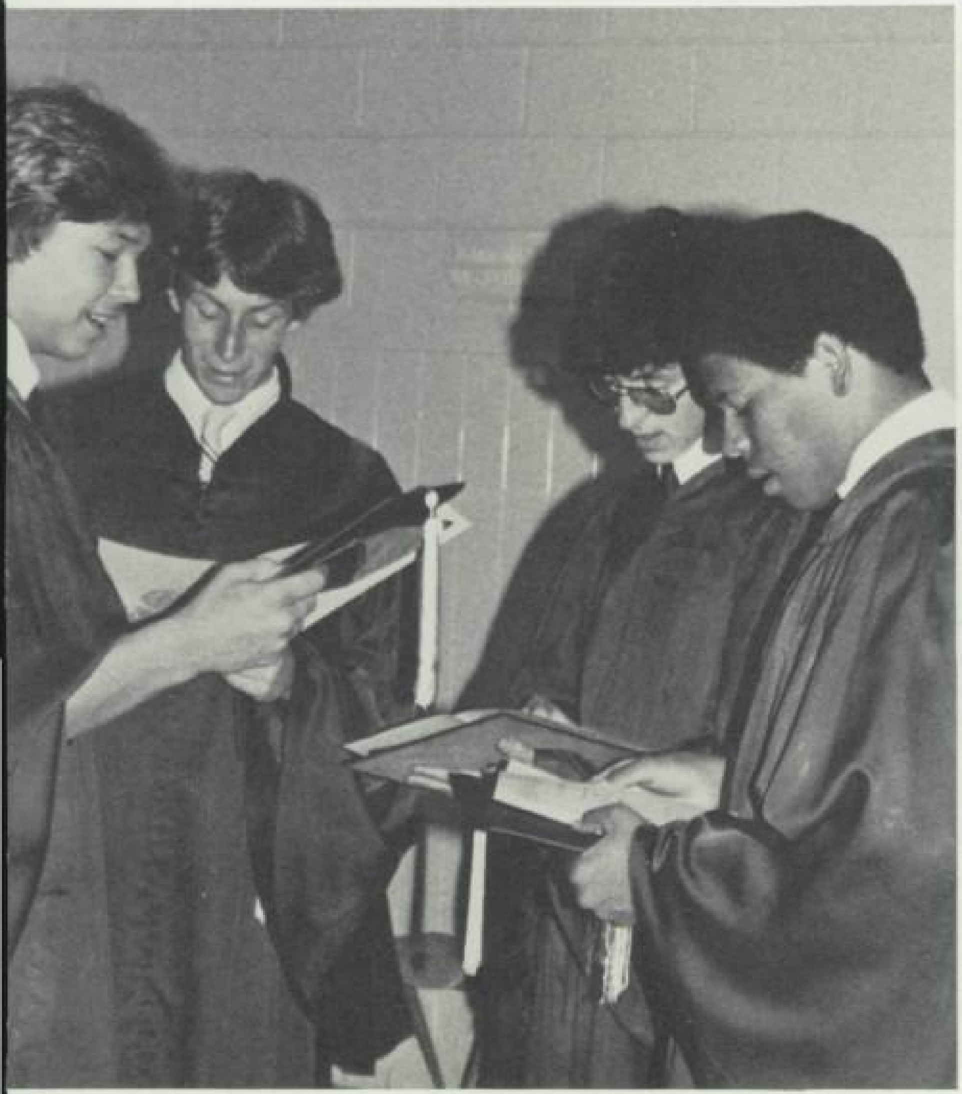
"What do I do now?" questions Maura Reed, confused over which direction to march in.



In a sea of green and white, the graduates wait anxiously for their name to be called to receive their diplomas.



Mr. Wesley reassures himself by putting on his glasses to read over his notes.



e Unger, Billy Edgette, Todd Coates, and Derek Jeffries study their pros to make sure they know when to rise and sit down.

Debra Karsay "looks up" to Jan Yuengert in hopes that Jan will fix her robe for her.

eral graduates flaunt their "seniority" by appearing ified and stately.

Mr. Gillikin shakes John Boswell's hand as he presents the satisfied graduate with a diploma.

SCRAMBLE THE RAMS

Showing off their first high school float, the sophomores join in the Homecoming celebrations.

Kecoughtan added to its ranks a multitude of new students, known as the sophomores, to fill the gaps left by those who graduated in 1981.

Traditionally recognized as the class most lacking in school spirit, the incoming sophomores quickly changed their image by winning the spirit competition at the Football Homecoming pep rally. Their efforts, however, were not as successful in the Homecoming float competition, for which their float received third place.

Even though they were encountering a new school and new people, the sophomores retained a common bond among themselves through the two class areas taken by virtually all sophomores: Biology and Health/Physical Education. The biggest thrill for most of the Papooses was getting their drivers license, and most worked very hard to attain it.

Although somewhat confused and disorganized upon arriving at Kecoughtan, the sophomores quickly pulled themselves together in time to build and enter a float in the Homecoming parade. A surprising show of their unity was at the Football Homecoming pep rally, where they beat both juniors and seniors and won the spirit jug competition.

Partly responsible for this class unity were the courses taken by most sophomores. The Health and Physical Education classes consisted almost entirely of sophomores, who, like their predecessors, wanted to fulfill the one-year requirement while in the tenth grade. Likewise, the Science department was a common denomination among the sophomore class, with most of them taking one of the various levels of Biology courses offered. This academic involvement with others in their own class was a major factor in building a foundation for the class of 1984.

Catching a quiet moment in the library, Hedy Schiller wonders if she can remember the way to her next class.

Though traditionally held in the fall before school started, sophomore orientation was held in the spring when they were still ninth graders. As they drifted into the auditorium, laughter was heard in the group, but a few bewildered and confused faces appeared. The seniors and juniors organized a program and presented it to the new students, which included skits about activities and also a few comedy spoofs portraying the new sophomores. The stage band performed a few selections, and the Harbor Lights Ensemble presented several song and dance routines. The cheerleaders lined up and cheered for the success of the new year.

Although many of the new sophomores were at first confused by the long hallways and "hidden" classrooms, future students adjusted quickly and hoped that they would remember their way around when it came time to join the ranks of the Indians.

Before eleventh graders become seniors, they go through a trial period of being juniors and anxiously await that time when they can be on top of the totem pole and reign over KHS.

It was a year of big decisions for many juniors: the choice of college or work, future careers, and where to look for colleges. Tests were always on the mind, with SRA tests, PSAT tests, and the dreaded SAT's. For this reason, juniors look forward to the supposed ease of being seniors.

ON THE WAY U

The class of 1983 entered the second year of its term at Kecoughtan, shedding its old identity as low man on the totem pole and moving into the ranks of the upperclassmen.

Most juniors, not having had history classes in their sophomore year, found themselves once again memorizing names, dates, and events as required in their American History classes. Advanced Placement American History was also offered to selected students, and dealt more in-depth with the causes and results of historical periods and happenings.

Many juniors also furthered their academic careers in Science by taking Chemistry or Physics. Math courses, while not a popular subject with many people, had no difficulty in attracting juniors to fill its classrooms. A wide range of math courses was offered, including Geometry, Algebra, and Trigonometry. Advanced students were given the opportunity to take Honors Algebra II, or Math Analysis.

After a year of such courses, many juniors, with a sigh of relief, looked forward to their senior year with confidence and anticipation.

Each year each class elects seven individuals who they feel are qualified to represent their class. This year the Junior class chose Sean Butler to be their president. Sean was responsible for organizing the Ring Dance, Junior float, pep rallies and other activities that the classes took part in throughout the year. Assisting Sean in his presidency was Ted Bunch, the Junior vice-president.

Other members of the executive board included secretary, Lisa Casavant, who recorded the minutes of each meeting and treasurer, Margaret Dismond, who kept track of how much money was spent and earned throughout the year. Representing the junior class in ICC was parliamentarian, Susan Lilley. Each year a scrapbook is put together to capture the highlights of the past year. This year, historian Michelle Allen and chaplain Renee Johnson were responsible for this task. Together with class sponsor, Mrs. Pearl Ray, the officers lead the class through another challenging year.

Standing: Sean Butler, Ted Bunch; Sitting Lisa Casavant, Susan Lilley, Renee Johnson, Margaret Dismond.

In an attempt to fill their coffers, juniors engaged in several fund-raising activities. They joined in both school-wide candy sales, sold sweaters with Kecoughtan emblazened on them, and spirit buttons. All of the money raised, as well as the dues collected, went toward the funding of the Junior Ring Dance, an expensive yet worthwhile adventure.

SPIRITED HIGH SCHOOL

asper Cooper is escorted by Cheerleader Myra Simpson uring a homecoming pep rally.

Having adjusted to high school the year before, and not yet worrying about college, the class of '83 took full advantage of what is traditionally the best of all school years by participating in many activities. Work on the float began early as enthusiastic groups of students met nightly at Melissa Savage's house. The weeks of hard work resulted in a second place win in the Homecoming competition. Fund raising was a very important activity, as most of the money earned went toward the Ring Dance. Serving as a climax to the years activities, the Ring Dance, held on April 24, was a well deserved reward for all juniors who had worked for their class. The activities in which the junior class participated helped to make the class of '83 more unified and spirited.

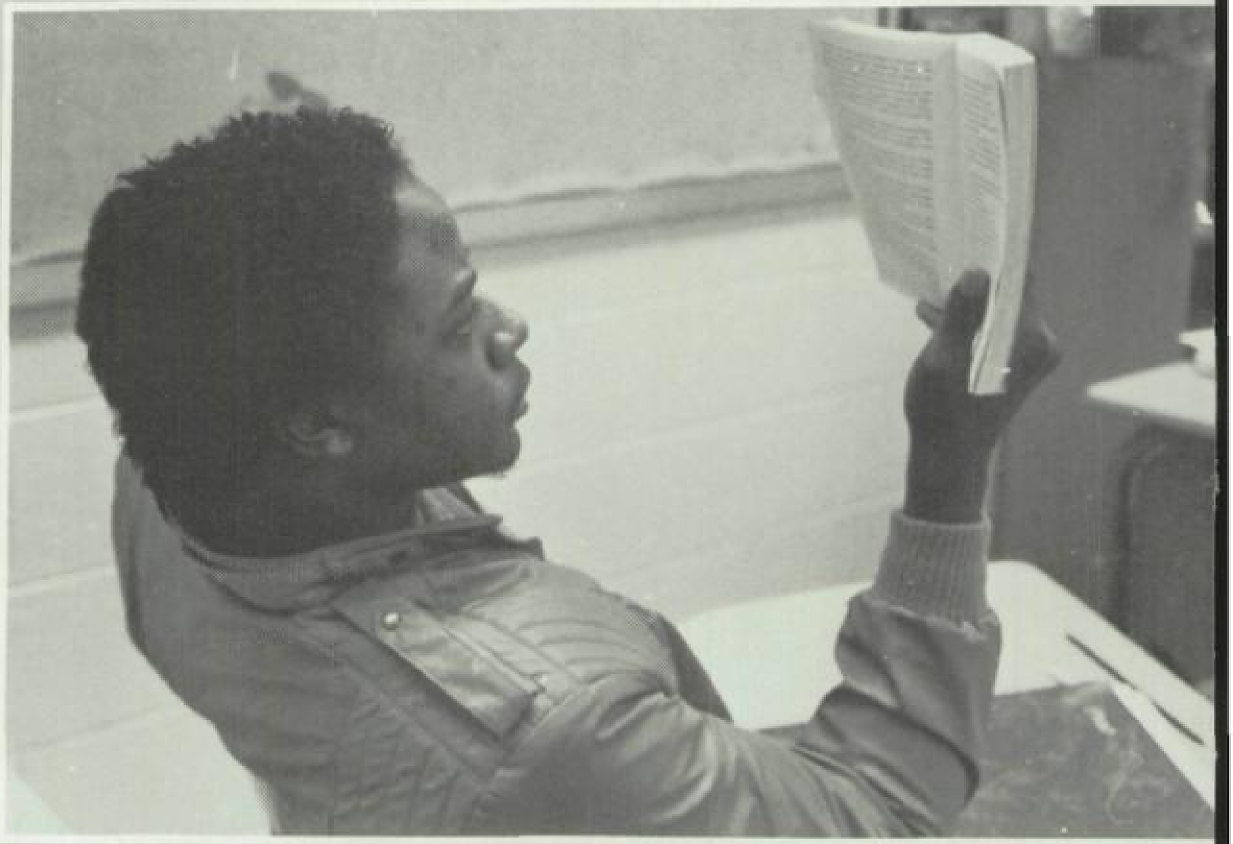
JUNIORS ON THE MOV

The junior class of Kecoughtan produced many outstanding students who made a significant contribution with their various talents.

In the musical field were Darin McCann and Susan Lilley. Darin traveled to Europe to play the violin and was also a member of the Harbor Lights Ensemble. Another member of the Harbor Lights was Susan, who sang in a capella and advanced to regionals in her singing category. In the athletic field was top-seeded tennis player Lisa Wildes, where she advanced to regionals, and also played basketball for the Lady Warriors.

Although all students contributed to the junior class, these students added to the quality of Kecoughtan's student body.



Engrossed in his reading, Eric Greene leans back and enjoys the novel.

ing in a scissors stand, Robbin Greer advertises for the Senior Class Carwash.

The Graduating Class of 1982 enjoyed an active year at Kecoughtan, even though most seniors were occupied with preparing themselves for their ventures into the world of work or college.

In the spring of their junior year under the sponsorship of Mrs. Evelyn Oliver, the graduates-to-be chose the people who were to lead them through one of the most memorable times of their lives. Chosen for these all-important offices were Sandy Davis, president, Robert Shuford, vice-president, Lori Diffenderfer, secretary, Ruth Williams, treasurer, Diana Worthington, historian, Cynthia Pankey, chaplain and Elizabeth Stillwell, parliamentarian.

Raising money is the first order of business in any organization and the seniors accomplished this through several means. Not only did they collect dues, but they also participated in the school wide candy sales, held a carwash, and sold crysanthemums for the football homecoming and dance. The Miss KHS Pageant was also sponsored by them.

Although busy since practically the first day of school, the most memorable time of the year came in the spring, when the seniors' thoughts turned to Senior Skip Day, the Prom, and Commencement.

On Thursday, May 27, thoughts of classes and teachers were pushed aside in eager anticipation of the Senior Prom. Seniors enjoyed a romantic evening at the Fort Monroe Officer's Club, dancing to their theme song, "Just Once." Friday, Senior Skip Day brought more good times as, discarding their formal attire of the evening before, many of them took to the beaches of Nags Head, North Carolina, for a weekend of fun in the sun.

All good things, however, must come to an end, and the previously carefree twelfth-graders soon found themselves back at Kecoughtan, preparing for their exams.

Exams appeared to many seniors as a minor inconvenience as Commencement approached. Many who thought the day would never arrive became believers when that hard-sought diploma was placed in their hands.

Thus prepared, the Class of 1982 filed out of the Coliseum and out of a world to which they would never be able to return, except in their memories.

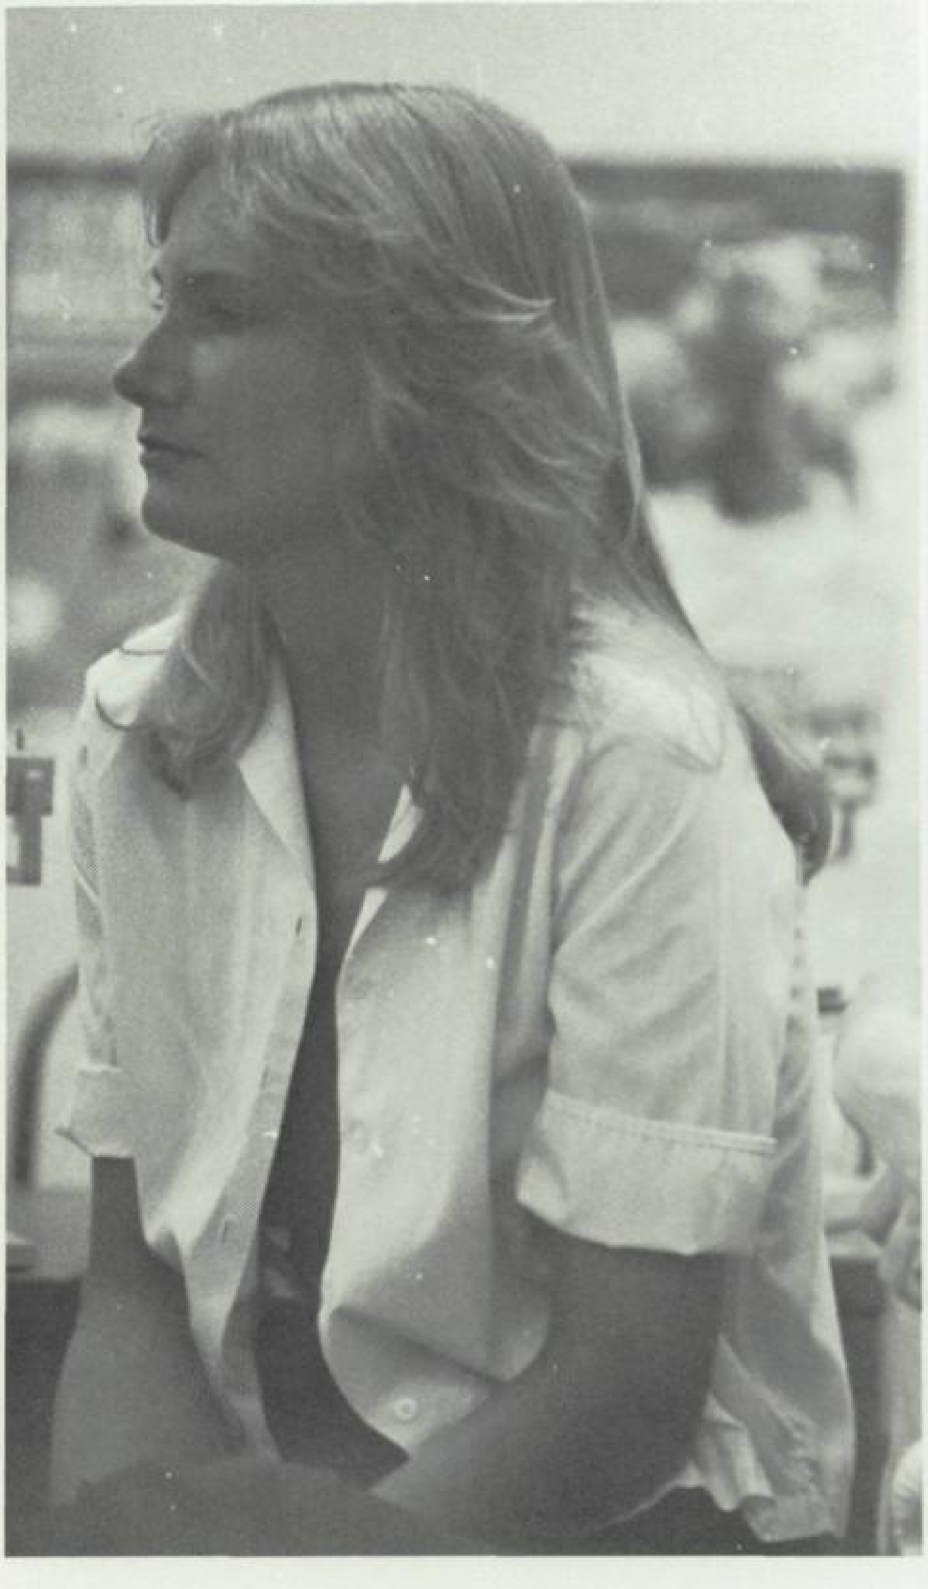
Pondering upcoming graduation, Senior Shari Savage sits quietly and reflects over the past years.



"Say Goodbye to Yesterday"

For three years we have grown together,
And shared the fears and joys
That new challenges can bring.
We have made this journey as one
And watched our dreams become realities.
But the time has come to say good-bye
To all those yesterdays
And move on to new tomorrows.
As we stand timidly on the edge
Of new beginnings,
We glance back fleetingly.
With feelings of sorrow and fond memories,
We turn our glances forward and
Say good-bye to yesterday.

Publishing a yearbook is a huge undertaking and this year's TOMAHAWK was no exception. The job was done by a few (around ten) regular staffers who worked after school and came back for almost two weeks after school was out in June to finish the work. These few recorded as faithfully as possible, through words and pictures, the activities of the various clubs and organizations, faculty and staff, and the classes of a student body of approximately 1600. This took dedication and perserverence as yearbook staffers received no academic credit for their work; it is entirely voluntary and at times, a thankless task.

Problems arose this year with underclassmen pictures as the staff received rolls of faces with no names or grade level. The staff attempted to the best of their ability to put the correct name and grade with the correct picture, but there will probably be some mistakes. The staff apologizes in advance and hopes that there will be no reoccurrence in the coming years. Some senior portraits were not included as these seniors either did not get their proofs to us or did not give the staff the correct proof. The staff attempted from time to time to contact these seniors; however, we could only work with what we had as deadlines came due.

All in all, in the opinion of this sponsor, the 1981-82 TOMAHAWK is well-done and has accomplished its mission of portraying Kecougbtan High School as it was during the school year. My congratulations and thanks to both the production and photography staff without which there would be no yearbook. Special thanks goes to the Editor, Erin McCarthy, who has done an outstanding job in coordinating activities throughout the year and to Liz Williams who, as Head Photographer was responsible for picture assignments to her six-man crew of photographers. This sponsor is also appreciative of the assistance rendered by Inter-Collegiate representative S. Kurt Araujo who took candids when the staff was in a bind and helped with layouts and design throughout the school year.

At the end of another school year, halls at Kecoughtan High School emptied as students filed out to a summer of work and play. For some, it was the end of high school and the beginning of something new, the adventures of life itself. For those who would be returning, it meant meeting new friends and renewing old acquaintances. To still others, KHS represents an event they have all been waiting for: high school. All of the above signifies that continuing cycle that makes Kecoughtan constantly change as new faces and new events replace the old; it is this cycle that makes Kecoughtan High School a kaleidoscope.
